PRESIDENT MAKES CAMPAIGN SPEECH

Taft Bestows Title of "Progressive" Upon Whole Republican Party.

CREDIT GIVEN ALL FACTIONS

Was Lustly Cheered by National Republican Club at Hotel Astor—Mentioned Colonel Roosevelt Twice.

New York, Oct.—President Taft delivered what will probably be his only public address of the present campaign, at the banquet of the National Republican Club at the Hotel Astor tonight.

The President's speech was marked by an unusually conciliatory tone toward the insurgent wing of the party. He gave "all factions of the party" due credit for their share in helping to put through Congress the legislative programme which the President took occasion to outline in some detail. The record of the past 18 months, he declared, was an earnest desire of the party to fulfill its platform promises and obligations, and he promised that if the Republican majority in Congress should be continued at the coming elections, the work thus far left undone would be carried through to completion.

Upon the whole Republican party the President bestowed the title of "progressive." The he undertook to define just what is meant by "progressive.

"A party of true progress is not a party of radicalism," he declared amid cheers.

"It is not a party of ultra-conservatism," he added, and again was cheered.

"A progressive Republican," the President went on, "is one who recognizes exasting and concrete evils and who is in favor of practical and definite steps to eradicate them."

Twice President Taft mentioned Col. Roosevelt by name in connection with the campaign against corporate abuses, and a third time by inference, when he referred to the New York situation. The cause of Republicanism in this State, he said, has been heartened by a brave declaration of principle and by the nomination of a candidate for Governor of the highest character and ability. At the same time, Mr. Taft did not take an altogether sanguine view of the benefits that are to accrue from direct primary experiments, but he hoped that the idea could be turned to a useful and prominent betterment of politics.

"But however effective these suggested changes may prove at first," he added, "I venture to say that no great permanent good can come from them, unless they are accompanied by a change in the individual voter, and his awakening to the necessity for constant watchfulness and effort on his part to prevent the old evils from appearing in a new guise."

President Taft announced that he had directed the tariff commission to make no report of the work it has accomplished up to this time until after the election. He took this step, he declared in order to left the commission out of politics entirely.

Besides the President, Representative Nicholas Longworth, of Ohio, was one of the chief speakers of the evening. His address was mainly a defense of the Payne tariff law.

Among the officers elected at today's session of the league, was John G. Capers, of South Carolina, as general counsellor.

A platform was adopted endorsing President Taft and his administration and his efforts and the efforts of Col. Roosevelt to purify politics. It also urged the enactment of such laws as would tend toward restraining the exodus from farm to city life, and laid the increase in the cost of food stuffs to this exodus, largely. It also endorsed the Payne tariff act.

Taft's Day in New York.

President Taft arrived in New York from Washington shortly after 3 o'clock, and was taken direct to the home of his brother, Henry W. Taft, where he will stop until tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock, when he leaves for Beverly, to remain there until October 17th.

At 4 o'clock this afternoon the President was escorted to the Republican Club in Fortieth street, to meet the delegates to the National Republican League. Henry L. Stimson, the Republican nominee for Governor of New York, also stood in the receiving line. The President heartily congratulated Mr. Stimson and declared he wished him success and believed he would win.

Mr. Taft had intended leaving New York for Beverly tonight, but decided to remain over until tomorrow when he received a wireless message from his brother, Charles P. Taft, on board during the greater part of the Summer.

There is a possibility that several conferences may be held with the President tomorrow, but it is said tonight that no definite engagements had been made.

On the way over from Washington the President had a long talk with Wade Ellis, over the Ohio situation. Mr. Ellis seemed none too optimistic and declared the fight would be a hard one.

At the Republican Club the President was told by a number of party leaders that the situation in New York State from a Republican point of view, seemed to be improving daily. All appeared to place great faith in Col. Roosevelt's leadership and the stumping tour he will make.

EDITOR AND ATTORNEY FOUGHT

State Senator Jones and Josephus Daniels Go Together—State Fair Outlook—Number of Democratic Appointments.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Octo. 1.—There was a personal encounter this morning about 1 o'clock between State Senator W. B. Jones and Editor Josephus Daniels, of the News and Observer, a culmination of long and bitter political differences.

Editor Daniels had just stepped from the street car at the corner of Fayetteville and Martin streets, en route to his office, when Senator Jones stepped up and said: "You have been lying about me again, take this!" and he dealt Mr. Daniels a blow in the face. The two men quickly clinched and rolled to the ground, where the fight went on for a little time before a number of men rushed in and pulled them apart. Neither was hurt. Editor Daniels had a number of bruises about the face and neck. They were directed by the police to appear before the police justice and the hearing is set for Monday morning.

The News and Observer carried this morning a two column article on Wake's independent movement scheduled to put out a ticket this afternoon and insinuated that under the Joneses in the past, there had been primary frauds and yet the opposing element of the party had supported the ticket, but now that the Jones faction was out," they would break party loyalty and indirectly at least encourage bolters. Jones says he has restrained himself as long as he can and that there must be an end of attacks on he and his father, Col. Armistead Jones, against whom the recent campaign by the "insurgents," was especially bitter.

The management of the State fair is finding resources well taxed in providing space for all the desirable applicants for exhibits. This applies to all classes of exhibits and especially to the agricultural and horticultural departments, as well as to the cattle and stock divisions.

Announcement is made of a series of political appointments for Governor Kitchin that includes Albemarle today, Graham October 3, Franklinton, Oct. 4th, Wilson, Oct. 5, Monroe, Oct. 13.

United States Senator F. M. Simmons has appointments that include Kenansville, Oct. 3, Comfort, Oct. 6, Kinston, Oct. 8, Winston-Salem, Oct. 10, Greensboro, Oct. 11.

Hon. Locke Craig, who has recently through his friends, announced anew his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for Governor two years hence, is scheduled to speak at Statesville, Oct. 14, Elmwood, Oct. 15, Winston-Salem, Oct. 17, Greenville, Oct. 19, Washington, Oct. 20, Plymouth, Oct. 21, Columbia, Oct. 22, Edenton, Oct. 24, Hertford, Oct. 25, Elizabeth City, Oct. 26, Camden, Oct. 27, Currituck, Oct. 28.

Hon. M. L. Shipman, commissioner of labor and printing has gone to Knoxville, Tenn., for the Southern Appalachian Good Roads Association in session there Oct. 5th and 6th. He is to deliver an address on "The Press and the Good Roads Movement."

The State Democratic Executive Committee will meet Thursday night to select a candidate for State Auditor. The official call signed by Chairman A. H. Eller, was issued, it follows:

"The State Democratic Executive Committee is hereby called to meet in the Senate Chamber, of the Capitol at Raleigh, on Thursday, October 6th, at 8 o'clock, P. M., to name a candidate of the Democratic party for the office of State Auditor, to fill the unexpired term caused by the death of Hon. B. F. Dixon, and transact such other business as may be deemed necessary or advisable. A full attendance is desired."

Probably 600 independent Democrats assembled this afternoon in mass meeting and placed in the field a ticket headed by Charles U. Harris, now representative in the lower house, for the State Senate. Candidates for the house are John Riddle, D. S. Stallings and J. W. Blalock. Charles U. Harris, in accepting the nomination for the Senate, declared himself a Democrat under all circumstances and pledged to vote at all times in the Senate as the party's intesrests required. He declared the independent movement fully justifiable by exceptional bitterness that he declared was injected into the June primary campaign by the Daniels-Bailey wing of the party.

RAYMER WAS APPOINTED.

Succeeds John W. C. Long as Postmaster at Statesville, N. C.

Washington, Oct. 1.—Dewey L. Raymer has been appointed postmaster at Statesville, N. C., succeeding John W. C. Long, who was relieved "for the good of the service."

PLANT IS WRECKED AND MANY KILLED

Death and Destruction By Dynamite Stirs Los Angeles People.

BLAME LAID ON UNION LABOR

Newspaper Building Completely Destroyed and Attempt is Made to Blow-Up Publisher's Home—Fifteen Persons Missing.

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 1.—The building and plant of the Los Angeles Times, one of the best known newspapers of the Southwest and of which General Harrison Gray Otis is editor and principal owner, was completely destroyed by an explosion and fire soon after 1 o'clock this morning, resulting in the death of upwards of twenty of its employes and a financial loss of nearly half a million dollars.

The management of the paper lays the blame of the explosion to the labor unions, with which organizations the paper has long been engaged in bitter warfare. It is charged that unknown persons set off a charge of dynamite in a blind alley which ran into the center of the building, completely wrecking the interior and setting it on fire from roof to basement.

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 1.—An attempt to destroy the residence of Gen. Harrison Gray Otis, publisher of the Los Angeles Times by means of an infernal machine was made late today, following an explosion, which early today caused great loss of life and destroyed the buildings and plant of the Times, eatniling a loss of nearly half a million dollars and a suspected effort to blow up the auxiliary plant of that paper. A powerful infernal machine was also found today in the residence of Secretary Zeehandelaar, of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association.

General Otis, who is on his way home from Mexico and the other responsible heads of the Times unequivocally charge the Times building disaster and the narrowly averted attempts at further destruction of life and property to labor union sources.

With equal emphasis, the leaders of union labor repudiate the accusation and offer all aid in their power to detect the culprits.

This afternoon the Times made public the following telegram from Gen. Otis:

"Your wire with its terrible news reached me this morning. I am amazed at the desperation of the criminal conspirators in destroying the Times building and slaying its loyal defenders, whose loss I deeply deplore; but the Times itself will live on, bravely defending the vital and essential principle of industrial freedom under law which must yet triumph in the entire Nation. (Signed)

"HARRISON GRAY OTIS."

For 20 years, following a quarrel with the typographical union and the changing of the Times to a non-union paper, General Otis has fought unionism with every resource in his command. He has been ably seconded in this fight by the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association, whose secretary was the object of frustrated dynamiting today.

Feeling ran high throughout the city during today over the Times disaster, and was augmented by the discovery that a dynamite bomb had been found under the residence of Secretary Zeehandelaar. The public reached a state of alarm and consternation when the attempt to blow up General Otis' residence became known.

The Otis home, known as "The Bivouac" stands on Wiltshir avenue, in the most fashionable quarter of the city. After the finding of the infernal machine at the Zeehandelaar residence. Detective Rice was sent to "The Bivouac" to search the premises.

Aided by Charles Flocker, the gardener he found a suit case hidden in a bunch of vines under a window on the side of the house fronting West Lake park. Detective kice telephoned Chief of Police Galloway, who went immediately to General Otis' house. The officers examined the suit case. Chief of Police Galloway wanted to take it to the police station without opening it.

Rice insisted on opening it there and finally stuck a knife through the side of the case. A buzz of mechanism was heard inside and smoke oozed out.

Convinced that the suit case contained a bomb. Chief Galloway excitedly ordered the infernal machine rushed over to West Lake Park where its explosion could do but comparatively little damage.

Rive and Gardener Focken dashed with it across the street, put it down and sped 100 feet before the bomb exploded with a crash that shattered a wind shield on the Otis porch and damaged street curbing, park fence and trees. Fortunately, the explosive was not packed. Before the suit case was found there was only a Japanese servant and a cook and Focken in the house.

The infernal machine found at Mr. Zeehandelaar's residence was composed of 15 sticks of giant powder, attached to a fuse and set by clock work to explode at 1 o'clock in the morning, the same hour at which the explosion occurred at the Times office. The

CANDIDATES DID NOT MEET.

Godwin and Meares Monday at Dunn. Cumberland Politics.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Fayetteville, N. C., Oct. 1.—As a result of the recent challenge issued by Iredell Meares, Esq., Republican candidate for Congress to Congressman H. L. Godwin, which was promptly accepted by Mr. Godwin, the two candidates will meet at Dunn Monday to arrange a joint canvass of the Sixth District. In his reply to Mr. Meares' challenge, Mr. Godwin under date of Sept. 30th, declares it unnecessary that the joint canvass be arranged by the District chairman as proposed by Mr. Meares and proposed the meeting of the candidates in Fayetteville. Mr. Meares telegraphed this afternoon that he could not reach Fayetteville tonight, but would go to Dunn Monday.

That faction of the Republican party in Cumberland which battled in the recent county convention under the leadership of Postmaster A. L. McCaskill met here today with the avowed intention of nominating candidates for county officers but adjourned without putting out a ticket.

The Cumberland County Democratic Executive Committee today elected Geo. McNeill, the Cumberland member of the Sixth Congressional Executive committee. The committee also ordered Chairman Dye to issue a challenge to the Republican county candidates for a joint canvass and unanimously adopted the following resolution:

Whereas our countyman Maj. Edward J. Hale is a Confederate soldier with a good record, an able and progressive citizen and a Democrat whose brilliant and untiring services have benefitted the party.

Resolved, That for these reasons and because of his fitness we heartily endorse Major Hale for the Democratic nomination for State Auditor, and ask the State Executive Committee to recognize the peculiar claims of the old soldiers on this office, and consider Maj. Hale's qualifications.

FOOTBALL SEASON NOW FAIRLY OPEN

Carolina Defeats V. M. I. by Close Score of Six to Nothing.

OTHER GRIDIRONS FOR DAY

How the New Rules Worked—Virginia Takes First Game—Cornell, Princeton and Yale Meets. Navy and St. Johns.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Chapel Hill, N. C., Oct. 1.—Carolina defeated Virginia Military Institute in the first game of the season here today by the close score of 6 to 0. The new rules worked fairly well, but proved conclusively that there will be a great many close score games this year, especially when the teams are well matched.

Four quarters were played, two eight minutes and two ten. In the game today Carolina greatly outweighed her opponents, but this was somewhat of a disadvantage on account of the intense heat. Carolina's line showed up exceedingly well but the backfield was slow and showed poor form. The Virginians showed excellent training and played a plucky spirited game. Winston at left end was Carolina's particular star while Yancy, Karst and Dalton all played good ball for V. M. I. Neither team could score in the first three quarters, although the advantage was to Carolina in all stages of the game, her goal never being in danger and all of the playing being in V. M. I's. territory.

In the last three minutes to play an exchange of punts in each of which Belk gained ten yards or more and an outside kick gave Carolina the ball on V. M. I's. 35-yard line, a forward pass was attempted, Belk fumbled, but recovered and made a beautiful pass to Winston who ran 30 yards for a touchdown. Spencer kicked goal. Porter and Spencer for Carolina, were especially strong on defensive work.

Summary: Officials, Referee Bob Williams, Virginia; umpire, John A. Parker, Carolina; field judge, Reach Stewart, Carolina; head linesman, Green, of Pennsylvania; timekeepers, Clayborne Carr for Carolina, and MacReedy, for V. M. I.; touchdown, Winston; goal from touchdown, Spencer.

Virginia Takes the Game.

Charlottesville, Va., Oct. 1.—University of Virginia defeated Randolph-Macon College today 17 to 0. All of the touchdowns came in the final quarter, when Virginia circled ends for long gains. In the first quarter Simpson, Randolph-Macon's end, blocked forward pass and Hopkins with a clear field ran 40 yards before he was stopped by Honaker from behind. The Virginia man fumbled frequently.

Princeton Plays New Game.

Princeton, N. J., Oct. 1.—There was little of the new football in the Princeton-Stevens game here this afternoon, which was won by the former 18 to 0. Princeton confined her play almost entirely to the old fashioned game. The forward pass was tried three or four times by each team but succeeded only once. Pendleton, Hart and Dunlap scored Princeton's three touchdowns, Dunlap making the third by failing on a blocked punt behind Stevens' goal.

Pennsylvania Won Easy.

Philadelphia, Oct. 1.—Despite the absence of several of the best men from the team, Pennsylvania this afternoon overwhelmed the Gettysburg football eleven. The score was 29 to 0, the periods being ten minutes each. Mercer, of Pennsylvania, was the star, scoring two touchdowns and making a third possible by running half the length of the field with the ball. The new rules did not bring out any startling features.

Navy Defeated St. Johns.

Annapolis, Md., Oct. 1.—In the initial game of the season here this afternoon Navy defeated St. Johns college at Annapolis 16 to 0. The game was marked by a surprising lack of anything like new football both teams playing straight old-time football during the two first periods, then resorting to a kicking game.

V. P. I. Wins Game.

Blacksburg, Va., Oct. 1.—Virginia Polytechnic Institute won the first football game of the season here this afternoon, defeating Hampden-Sidney by a score of 18 to 0. The Tech goal was never in danger and their defensive work was strong. The forward pass was tried several times without success. Of the new men tried this season, Pick at guard; Hughes at end, and Bernier, half-back, showed up well. The game was clean and no player was even slightly injured, but as played under the new rules it lacked the interest of former years for spectators.

Cornell Wins at Ithaca.

Ithaca, N. Y., Oct. 1.—Cornell defeated Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute here today by a score of 2 to 0. in a game marked by rough play and the infliction of many penalties. Hale, of Cornell and Mager, of Rensselaer, were put out of the game for fighting. Every attempt at the forward pass failed and nearly all the gains were made on line plunges and punts. Two drop kicks by Hitcher, Cornell's end, from the 25-yard line, featured the contest.

Yale and Syracuse Played.

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 1.—Yale had to extend herself to beat Syracuse 12 to 6. The visitors made their scores on two kicks from placement. At the opening Syracuse muffed Yale's kickoff, and Yale made a touchdown from the eight-yard line. The forward pass was used three times by Yale and twice by Syracuse.

NUMBER OF JACKIES DROWNED

Accident to Tender While Sailors Were Returning to Battleship New Hampshire—Unable to Estimate Dead.

New York, Oct. 1.—Several sailors from the battleship New Hampsire were drowned by the upsetting of a tender in the North river off 152nd street tonight. Estimates of the dead vary from 3 to as high as 12, but as no official count had been made of the number aboard the tender and as many men have shore leave it was impossible to accurately fix the list of the missing.

The sailors were returning to the New Hampsire after shore leave and more than one hundred of them, it is estimated, had crowded aboard the tender, which was being towed to the battleship. About 300 yards off shore the craft either swamped or was upset and the entire load of jackies were precipitated into the water.

Boats were immediately put out from the New Hampshire and wherever a bobbing head showed a man was rescued. But in the darkness several sank and others were almost unconscious when dragged to safety.

On board the New Hampshire 61 with wet clothes were counted, indicating that sixty one had been saved and leaving blank a more serious gap of possible dead. As two hundred and fifty men from the ship had shore leave tonight, there was no way of ascertaining just how many were aboard the tender. Several sailors who were in the upset tender hesitated to estimate the number lost, although those inclined to take a more serious view of the affair placed the list as nigh as thirty sailors refused to be committed.

No information could be obtained aboard the New Hampshire. The men men who were rescued were hustled below and the officer on deck said that an estimate of the dead was out of the question tonight. Midshipman Godfrey DeChevatier, who had charge of the tender, was taken from the water unconscious and is in the ship's hospital. It was reported that he personally saved fifteen sailors before exhaustion overcame him.

The New Hampshire, with her sisters in the North Atlantic fleet, is anchored in the Hudson in the Northern part of this city, having arrived at New York this week after target practice off Hampton Roads.

Rear-Admiral Schroeder, on the Connecticut, and Rear-Admiral Creeland, on the Louisiana, both agreed that it would be impossible to tell how many men had been drowned until 9 o'clock roll call tomorrow morning. Neither of them would comment on the accident.

A FEARFUL CYCLONE.

Caused Wreck in Ruin to New Hampshire Town—Loss $100,000.

Sanbornville, N. H., Oct. 1.—For twenty minutes this afternoon Wolfboro, 12 miles from here was the center of a cyclonic wind such as never before visited New Hampshire. It left in its wake unroofed houses and barns, uprooted whole groves of trees and toppled over grave stones and monuments in Lake View cemetery. The falling trees carried with them the telephone, telegraph and electric wires, completely isolating the town from outside communication, while the trees themselves so effectually blocked the roads that it was hours before the first news reached here by mesengers.

Thus far no persons are reported seriously injured, although a number were struck by falling bricks and flying timber.

FOUR DEATHS MAR VANDERBILT RACE

Wholesale Maiming and Killing Result of Mad Speed Carnival.

GRANT WON AND MADE RECORD

Twenty Persons Were Injured—Crowd Dispersed Under Pall of Sorrow—Details of Fatal Accidents Given.

Long Island Motor Parkway, New York, Oct. 1.—Four killed and twenty seriously injured—four of them fatal—was the price in human flesh paid today for the sixth running of the Vanderbilt cup race, won in electrifying fashion by Harry Grant, driving a 120 horse power Alco.

Grant, who distiguished himself last year by finishing fifth in the Vanderbilt, won today's event from Joe Dawson, driving a Marmon, by the narrow margin of 25 seconds. Jno. Aitken, in the National, was only a minute and six seconds behind Dawson.

This was the toll of the sixth running of the Vanderbilt cup race:

The killed:

Mathew R. Bacon, mechanician for Harold Stone. Killed when Columbia car No. 12 plunged over bridge spanning Westburg road.

Charles Miller, mechanician for Lewis Chevrolet, killed when Chevrolet's car left the course and struck a touring car.

Ferdinand D'Zubia, New York manager of Pope-Hartford Company. Killed in early morning smash up on way to race.

Edward Lynch, run down after race, died of injuries.

The injured:

Harold A. Stone, driver of the Columbia car, both legs broken; internal injuries; may die. Mrs. Ferdinand D'Zubia. Both legs broken; condition critical. William Knipper, driver Lancia car; broken leg. C. Padula, driver Abbott-Detroit; bruised. Louis Chevrolet, driver Marquette-Buick, right arm broken. James Nelson, mechanician for Arthur Chevrolet; leg broken. Thomas Miller, struck by a Pope-Hartford car; skull fractured; injured internally; may die. C. N. Kittrell, mechanician car 27 shock and contusions. Frank Toplia, hurt in early morning smash-up; will recover. Chas Grommucci, the Toplia chauffeur bruised. Harry Haggenbom, spectator, hit by Dawson's car; condition serious. Morrison Levinson, spectator, struck by Knipper's car, leg broken. Cornell Reid, spectator, leg broken. Mrs. Gussie Heidtmann, spectator, cut and bruised. Mrs. Lillian Roos, arm broken. Mrs. Martha Roos, cut and bruised. Joseph Cook, scalp wound. William Peterson, knocked unconscious by flying tire from wheel. Thomas Summers and Edward H. Brown, injured in D'Zubia accident.

The race was the most closely contested of any of the Vanderbilt cup races and with the two small car events run as a unit with it—the Wheatley Hills sweepstaks and the Massapequa trophy—brought out a record number of starters. The time of the three first cars to the finish in the main event exceeded the best time ever made in an American road race. Grant, by covering the 278.08 miles of the course in four hours and 15 minutes, 58 seconds—equivalent to an average of 65 1-5 miles an hour—established a new record.

But as brilliant as was the performance of the three winners and as thrilling as was the race itself, the horror caused by the wholesale maiming and killing which attended it cast such a deep shadow over the spectators, participants and management that the crowd dispersed under a pall of sorrow.

Yet, notwithstanding the list of casualties it was announced tonight that the grand prize race over the same course will positively be held on Saturday, October 15th. Fifteen cars have already been entered for the event and preparations are to begin at once to have the track in readiness.

W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., donor of the trophy for which four lives were sacrificed today, could not be seen tonight, having left the course before interviewers approached. But A. P. Pardington, vice-president and general manager of the Motor Parkway, spoke of the race only as a success. He regretted, of course, the deaths and accidents, but was inclined to attribute them mainly to the carelessness of spectators. Expressions of sorrow and regret were heard on all sides and many spectators were inclined to blame what they styled inadequate policing of the course, but official condemnation was lacking.

Privilege to hold the race is granted by the board of supervisors of Nassau county, in whose power the right to revoke rests. While it was reported that steps would be taken to prohibit a repetition of today's accidents, no announcement was made officially, of the board's attitude.

The accidents that caused two of the three deaths recorded were sensational. The first occurred when the Columbia car, driven by Harold Stone,

THE BIG CONTEST HAS 'EM A'GOING

Many Thousand Additional Votes Are Announced Today and Still They Come.

THE SPECIAL BONUS OFFER

Holding Votes in Reserve and Why It is Allowed—Race Has Barely Begun—How to Solicit Business—Pointers.

The Special Contest Offer, which is certainly exciting much interest through the eastern part of North Carolina and the northern part of South Carolina, giving 35,000 extra votes for $30 in new subscriptions, has caused the erroneous idea to prevail in certain sections that the actual contest will draw to a close October 8th, but such is not the case.

Contest Barely Begun.

In fact, the contest has but barely started. There remains still plenty of time for a contestant to enter and become a winner in this, the greatest contest that was ever inaugurated in Eastern Carolina.

Interest Manifested.

Of course there have been other contests in this part of the State, but the interest in this contest has been manifested in every county and town throughout the Star's territory, through the gathering of coupons, soliciting subscriptions, and telling the people how good a paper the Star really is.

Expounding Good Doctrine.

So far it has not been brought to the attention of the contest manager that a single contestant has asked for a subscription in a manner which would lead the prospective subscriber to believe that they wanted to be "helped out." It seems that the contestants have taken great pride in explaining the good qualities of the paper, telling the people at large about the excellent features of the Star, and soliciting their patronage.

Always Alert and Up-to-Date.

Alert, alive, and wide-awake is what has been instilled into the minds of the different young ladies who are working not only for the premiums that are offered, but also for the pleasure derived from the interesting experience.

Today's News Today.

All the news all the time, is the model of the paper that does things. Subscriptions come pouring in from every section of the city and from many sections of the State, and in fact from different parts of the United States, from people who used to be residents or are interested in the contest and contestants.

Circulation Benefitted.

The circulation of the Star has certainly been benefited by a very cyclone of subscriptions coming into that department, and still the contest has just started.

You might say that the race is now on. Of course, there are a great many of the contestants holding votes back in reserve, and it is a good idea. A reserve vote to a contestant is almost as necessary as is a bank account to a merchant, for they have something to fall back upon.

Eliminating a Proposition.

In addition to allowing contestants to hold back their votes, the Morning Star eliminates a gambling proposition that might be apparent if votes were not to be held back.

If everyone knows just exactly how many votes a contestant has, it would be an easy matter for someone with a lot of money to step in and deprive the contestant who has worked for a premium by putting in a large number of subscriptions he had bought, and at the same time win out, and net the investor a good profit on his speculation.

By each one holding her votes in reserve, or, in fact being allowed to hold in reserve, there is no one who knows how many votes a contestant has. They might have 2,000 votes in the paper, and have several thousand in reserve. They might have several thousand in the paper and have none behind, so it would be very foolish for anyone to invest money on something they did not know anything about.

Below will be found a most interesting list of contestants with the number of votes each has, as the result of the count on Saturday shows:

THE WEEK AT LUMBERTON

Court Convenes Monday—Printers Busy With Campaign Literature. Theatrical News—Personal and General News.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Lumberton, N. C., Oct. 1.—A two-weeks' term of Robeson Superior Court for the trial of civil cases will convene Monday, Judge Oliver H. Allen presiding. There is generally business enough to consume all the time allotted for the courts in this county and always a larger number of cases left over from different causes. The next term of criminal court will convene November 7th, the day before election but we suppose the term will not open until Wednesday, the 9th, so that no one will be prevented from voting, on account of having to attend court.

We never saw a scarcer time for printers in Lumberton than at present. Work is sufficiently heavy to keep the Freeman Printing Co., busy day and night and then not keep up with the work by any means. The Robesonian is forced to work part of the time at night in order to get out on time. During the recent primary campaign when so many circulars were being used by the different candidates we saw one printer who is now engaged in other business, receive his pay for half a day's work at the rate of 75 cents per hour. "It's an ill wind that blows nobody good."

During the Congressional campaign some one got out a circular letter, or rather, a clipping from the Star, which appeared in the paper as a paid advertisement, in circular form, giving an account of Mr. Godwin's connection with the Bud Tart case. Now the Republicans are using the identical circular through this part of the district, thereby making it answer for another purpose than for which it was originally intended.

Mr. M. W. Floyd, who was appointed by Gov. Kitchin as a delegate to the Good Roads Convention in Oklahoma City, Okla., next week, regrets to have to forego the pleasure of attending the meeting, but it comes just at the time of year when the business men in this section do not have time to go far away from their business.

The Woman's Home Mission Society of the Methodist church will observe next week as one of prayer. Each afternoon services will be held in the church at 4 o'clock to which all ladies are cordially invited.

The revival meeting which has been in progress two weeks at the Gospel Tabernackle, we understand, will close tomorrow night.

Human Hearts opened the theatrical season in Lumberton last Monday evening and it is to be regretted that many patrons had to be turned away. Long before the rise of the curtain every seat had been sold and standing room was at a premium. It was a great show and Lumberton people are among the best to be found anywhere for patronizing good shows, but they are not looking for bum aggregations. The next attraction will be Coburn's Minstrels, which appear here on the 12th. Those who have seen it, say it is the best of its kind.

Messrs. E. G. Sipher, John Gilmore, H. B. Humphrey, W. K. Bethune and Stephen Rozier attended the W. O. W. quarterly meeting and picnic at Rowland Thursday and while they have attended many similar gatherings they say they have never attended a more pleasant one and to hear them tell it, people would think Rowland was "it" with a big I.

For several weeks past large numbers of rice birds have been passing over here at night but Thursday night the great noise indicated an unusually large number passing by. Yesterday one of the little birds was picked up on the street, apparently exhausted. It was put in a canary cage and given food and water. It fell into the hands of a lady who had had experience in handling them for song birds and she is very hopeful of being able to keep it all right.

Mr. G. T. Cox is now engaged in buying cotton seed for the Universal Oil & Fertilizer Co. The farmers are reaping the benefit of the strong competition which is now going on here in the seed market.——Some of the merchants are now shipping the cotton they are buying to Wilmington instead of holding for the home mills. We noticed one shipment yesterday of over 50 bales.

Mr. Iredell Meares has appointments to speak at different places in this county commencing at Maxton Monday night, the 10th.——Sheriff McNeill is advertising his first round for collecting taxes. His first place is Raft Swamp Church, next Wednesday, the 5th. He will complete his round at Wakulla Smith's township, the first day of November.

Mr. L. B. Blackburn, who recently purchased from Mr. John Morris, the Lumberton Bakery, has disposed of his interest in the bottling works business in order that he may give his entire time to the bakery. Mr. Blackburn is to be congratulated upon the quality of bread he is furnishing to customers.——A large number of people went from here to Tar Heel on the free excursion Wednesday to attend the auction sale of lots. It is said that every lot offered was sold and that at highly satisfactory prices.

Mrs. Laura Hudson, of Charleston, S. C., who has been visiting relatives here for some days, returned home yesterday morning. Before marriage Mrs. Hudson was Miss Laura Godwin and spent her childhood in Lumberton where she still has many friends. She was a niece of the late Mr. Berry Godwin and is also a niece of Mr. H. C. McQueen, of Wilmington.

Dr. W. L. Grantham left yesterday for Mt. Gilead where he expects to spend several days.——Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Baker and little son "Ned" went on the Seaboard excursion to Florida points this week. They expect to visit Cuba, points in Georgia and possibly a few places in Texas before returning.

The motion picture show has adopted a new system of getting business which will be put to the test Monday night if the weather is good. The plan is simple. One of the opera chairs in the building will be designated and whoever occupies this particular seat will be entitled to a prize of a silver dollar. No one will know until 9 o'clock who is filling the 'silver dollar" seat.

Several Wilmington people have written their Lumberton friends asking them to save and send Star coupons to them and in that way assist them in securing some of the prizes which are being contested for. It must make a fellow feel a little shaky to get one of these letters and reply telling the young lady friend in the city by the sea that he doesn't take the Star. But the contest is as strong in Lumberton as it is in Wilmington and not many coupons are allowed to get away.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Hinds have the deepest sympathy of the community in the death of their little daughter which occurred Thursday night, aged about one year. The little girl had been sick all the Summer but a few weeks ago was thought to be improving. The improvement, however, was only temporary and the little one passed away Thursday night. The interment was made in Meadow Brook cemetery yesterday afternoon.

Monday night, while many of the colored people from West Lumberton were attending the performance of "Human Hearts" at the opera house, some of their friends thought it would be a great joke to have some fun at their expense on their return home. Accordingly a dummy, such as is used in front of clothing stores, was secured and placed on the iron bridge across the river in a threatening attitude to wait for the homeward bound theatre-goers, all of whom were not so easily frightened and the dummy was thrown overboard. No more was thought of the matter until yesterday when two colored fishermen were passing along in a boat and discovered what they really thought was a drowned man. They went to work to recover the body and it did not take long for a crowd of excited spectators to assemble on both bridges—the supposedly drowned man was in the river between the iron and the wooden bridge—to try to learn who the unfortunate victim was. When the truth was learned no one was willing to acknowledge that he or she had seen or heard anything about the "dead man."

Mr. Geo. McNeill and Miss Hazle Penny were united in marriage tonight at 8:30 o'clock, Justice A. P. Caldwell performing the ceremony. Mr. McNeill is day engineer at the power plant and is a brother of Miss Myrtle McNeill, who holds a position in Wilmington. The bride is an attractive young lady of Lumberton. The happy young couple have the best wishes of a large circle of friends.

Mr E. B. Huggins, agent of the W. C. & S. left this morning for Fayetteville to be with a sister-in-law who is very sick in a hospital in that city.

Mr. T. N. Higley went to Red Springs this morning, where she was called on account of the sickness of her daughter, Miss Emma, who is a student at the Presbyterian College at that place.

And now the report has reached Lumberton that a man bearing the name of J. C. Wilkes, and claiming Robeson as his home, spent last Saturday night and Sunday behind bars at Monroe, Union county. Col McLean received a message from him Monday morning offering to give him a case and the Robesonian received 15c in subscription from him. Sheriff McNeill also received a letter from the Monroe authorities asking for information about the man. The trouble seems to be about picture agents' license.

There is much interest here in the prospect for a joint debate between Godwin and Meares. Our prediction is that they will have somebody to hear them when they meet in Lumberton.

September was a record-breaking month for business at the Lumberton postoffice, the receipts for the month having been about $1,300. Watch Lumberton's business grow.

A. & M. COLLEGE NEWS.

Returned Missionary Speaks—Everglades Club—Grandstand.

(Special Star Correspondent.)

West Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 1.—William B. Hotchkiss, a returned missionary from the Dank Continent, addressed the students of Chapel this morning and gave some very interesting facts relative to the development that is going on among the natives.

At a reorganization meeting of the Everglades Club, composed of all the students in college from Florida, the following officers were elected: President, J. K. Gunn; vice-president, A. T. Bowlef; secretary and treasurer, William Bailey.

A force of carpenters has been busy for the past two weeks repairing the damage done to the grandstand and fence of the new atletic field during the cyclone last Spring.

HOW TO GET FAT.

Use Samose, Says Druggist J. Hicks Bunting, and Put on Good Flesh.

The almost universal interest in physical culture is the best evidence that can be offered as to the need of a simple and scientific method of making thin people fat, increasing strength and restoring health.

Atletics, when carried to an extreme, often result in straining the vital organs. How much better it would be for the average person to gain health, strength and flesh by using Samose. This flesh forming food is assimilated as soon as it enters the stomach; it helps the organs to assimilate the food and extract the flesh forming elements.

Samose has been so successful in making thin people fat and restoring the weak and run down to strength and health that J. Hicks Bunting, the popular druggist, sells it under his personal guarantee to refund the money if it does not benefit.

Diversity of Her Crops—Republicans Working—Street Improvement.

(Special Star Correspondent.)

Whiteville, N. C., Oct. 1.—This is certainly a wonderful county. Yesterday Mr. C. D. Lennon, a progressive young farmer who lives in Western Prong township, brought into Whiteville several stalks of sugar cane and a sack of ground peas. The cane was over seven feet tall, and as large around as a stout woman's wrist, and it was not as yet fully grown. Mr. Lennon says he can make over 500 gallons of ribbon cane syrup frmo an acre, but there is no market for it. The ground peas were of mammoth sive, being as large as a person's thumb, and the meat in them was bigger than a Virginia peanut, including the shell. Mr. Lennon says he planted the ordinary peanut and they grew to this size.

The Republicans in Columbus are working like beavers to have big crowds out to hear Mr. Meares when he starts his campaign next Monday. The county has been thoroughly billed, and the Republicans say they are going to show us Democrats their strength at those appointments.

Mayor Davis and Capt. Granger will leave next Tuesday for Sumter, S. C., and Augusta, Ga., to investigate the paving business. They say before their return they intend to investigate the different paving materials, and begin work at the earliest day possible in permanently improving our streets. It is believed they will use stone and that Beech Island clay cement. The first work will be on Madison avenue, which street will be graded down and a firm roadway made. An enterprising gentleman says that when the work is finished he will put on an auto line between Vineland and the Court House, and meet every train, besides making trips each hour.

UNIVERSITY ATHLETICS.

Interest in Track Work—Tournament is Arranged—Other Items.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Chapel Hill, N. C., Oct. 1.—Interest in track work at the University was re-aroused this week when it was recently made known that a Fall tournament will be held on Oct. 29th. There will be 13 events and the winner of first and second places will be awarded gold and silver medals, Mr. R. R. Bridgers of Wilmington, is donor of the medals. He was on the Hill recently on his way to the University of Pennsylvania to resume his studies in medicine, when he made known the gift to Coach Cartmell and the tournament was immediately arranged.

Mr. Bridgers was a star half-miler at the University several years ago and was captain of the Varsity track team in 1906. He has always been interested in track work at the University and this gift will increase the interest. Men are running regularly in preparation for the event and W. M. Parsley has been chosen Field Captain in the absence of captain-elect Ruffin, who is on the Varsity football squad. In addition to this tournament, a four-mile cross-country run will be held about the same time and many men are training for this. Trainer Cartmell devotes his mornings to track work and many men taking advantage of this are getting in shape for the innovations in track work, the Fall tournament and the cross-country run.

Notice to Fat Women.

Presumably you know, ladies, that the proper caper nowadays is lines. Curves are passe. You have got to take off you fat. This must be done in one of three ways. By dieting, by exercise or by means of Marmola Prescription Tablets. The two former will keep you busy for months and punish you pretty severely, the latter will cost you 75 cents at the druggist's. The tablets will not make any alterations in your diet necessary, and yet in all probability, before you have used up one case, you will be losing from 12 to 16 ounces of fat a day. Which method do you like the best?

If you fancy this pleasant method of getting off the fat, see your druggist instantly, or else write the Marmola Co., 606 Farmer Building, Detroit, Mich., to send you a case by mail. These cases contain so generous a quantity of tablets that the treatment is very economical. It is, also, quite harmless, for the tablets are made exactly in accordance with the famous Marmola Prescription.

Silence!

The instinct of modesty natural to every woman is often a great hindrance to the cure of womanly diseases. Women shrink from the personal questions of the local physician which seem indelicate. The thought of examination is abhorrent to them, and so they endure in silence a condition of disease which surely progresses from bad to worse.

It has been Dr. Pierce's privilege to cure a great many women who have found a refuge for modesty in his offer of FREE consultation by letter. All correspondence is held as sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription restores and regulates the womanly functions, abolishes pain and builds up and puts the finishing touch of health on every weak woman who gives it a fair trial.

It Makes Weak Women Strong, Sick Women Well.

Sunday, October 2, 1910.

Of course, South Carolinians are welcome to come and grow up with North Carolina unless they have been run out of South Carolina for being Roosevelt Democrats.

The principal thing against a North Carolina Republican is that he let Taft slime him over and rub it in and then has so little respect for himself that he would even vote for Taft for dogpelter.

Next Thursday ExPresident Theodore Roosevelt will start from Oyster Bay on his Southern tour, which will include a number of speeches in different cities and probably from the rear platform of his Pullman car. No doubt we are to hear more about his "New Nationalism," civic integrity talk and grandmotherly advice. However, he will avoid the tariff and other questions of actual reform necessary for the happiness and well being of the people of this country. He will dodge everything except palaver about his interest in the South and talk that sounds big and amounts to nothing.

The other day before the New York State Democratic convention, Judge Parker reiterated his declaration that the Republican party elects its Presidents and officeholders by corruption funds. Col. Roosevelt once called Judge Parker a deliberate falsifier on that score but he hasn't come forward to do so again, for Judge Parker had the document to prove it by a Republican investigation of corruption among big insurance companies. Parker's reiteration of Republican corruption, with the proof to stick under Roosevelt's nose, is somewhat like "rubbing it in."

Republican newspapers in North Carolina attempt to anathematize Dr. John M. Faison, Democratic nominee for Congress in the Third District, by constantly alluding to him as "Red Shirt Faison." At the time when red shirts were worn by a North Carolinian it was a sign that he was enlisted to redeem his State from negroism. The red shirt, therefore is a badge signifying a distinction between the reds and the "black and tans." The red shirt slur only reminds loyal North Carolinians that the man who once wore it in trying times in the State's history was straight goods. Those who are not stuck on the red shirt evidently were lined up with the crowd that fought under the black and tan colors. The red shirt is a relic of fidelity and loyalty to the Good Old North State.

The Winston-Salem Sentinel on Wednesday issued a handsome "thirtieth anniversary and fashion edition" embracing twenty-four pages of that splendid newspaper of North Carolina's Twin City. The edition was illustrated and contained many intensely interesting articles on the progress of Winston-Salem for the past thirty years. A brief history of the tobacco industry there shows that Winston-Salem is the second largest leaf tobacco market in the world and that it manufactures 50,000,000 pounds of plug and smoking tobaccos annually, leading the world in several tobacco manufactures. Progress along all lines has been steady and marvellous and among other things in the newspaper field, as is so admirably demonstrated by the enterprise of the Sentinel. That esteemed contemporary is one of Winston-Salem's live institutions and it is a creditable representative of that substantial and growing North Carolina city.

MEARES AND GODWIN.

According to announcement in the Star yesterday morning, there is to be a joint canvass of the Sixth Congressional District by the Hon. Iredell Meares, of Wilmington, Republican nominee for Congress, and present Congressman H. L. Godwin, of Dunn, who was renominated by the recent extraordinary primary election. Mr. Meares threw down the gauntlet to Mr. Godwin and the Democratic champion promptly took it up.

Very properly, Mr. Godwin did not wait to refer Mr. Meares' challenge to either one of the Congressional District Committees which are supposed to be in existence in this District, but his prompt acceptance of the challenge to jointly discuss the issues of the campaign indicates, that he has no idea of running away from the fight with an antagonist skilled in debate and anxious for the fray. Mr. Godwin could have dodged the challenge by pleading two Democratic committees and deferring acceptance of the challenge until one or the other of the committees is recognized as the proper executive authority of the ptrty, but the Democratic candidate evidently was not built that way. He courageously took the matter in his own hands and expressed a willingness to meet Mr. Meares on the stump, confident that the issues for the relief of the people and the preservation of North Carolina will appeal to the intelligent voters of the Sixth District.

As a matter of fact, there is but one Congressional District committee in existence at this time. The ruling of the State Democratic Executive Committee concerning the Wrightsville convention, or conventions, eliminated both the committees chosen by the two conventions resulting from the split in the regular convention which had been called. The State Executive Committee decided that neither convention was properly organized and held, so, therefore, the committees which were chosen by either of those conventions are not constituent bodies in accordance with the plan of organization of the Democratic party in North Carolina. As the matter stands now, the District Executive Committee exercising that function during the past two years holds over by reason of the fact that no other committee has been properly chosen to succeed it.

However, this matter of conflicting committees is of little consequence. The Democrats of the District have held a special primary election and chosen their candidate for Congress. They will stand by him and they should see to it that he shall go to Congress where he can represent the interets of the people, as he has done for the past two terms, to the best of his ability. The people of the District are satisfied of one thing and that it that Congressman Godwin has not voted with the special interests in his Congressional career, but whatever ability and influence he has had at Washington have been on the side of the people.

Mr. Godwin, better than any one else, knows his fitness to enter into a spellbinding match with Mr. Meares, or any other Republican, and no doubt he feels able to take care of himself. With the record of the Republican party and negro Republicanism and Populistic hysteria in fusion in the State of North Carolina, and with a Republican Congress completely dominated by trusts and its burdensome legislation even introduced in Congress by representatives of special interests in the Senate and House, we should not think it would require much of an argument to convince the people that this crisis for the relief of the people and the protection of North Carolina from Butlerism is too grave to admit of support of even the cleverest and ablest Republican in the Commonwealth.

The Republican nominee for Congress in this District is able and adriot and he will go on the stump fully equipped from his standpoint to champion a cause which deserves defeat, whatever may be the personality or the popularty of the candidate. It must be admitted that he is a strong antagonist from a spieling point of view, but neither sophistry nor oratory can boltser up the Republicanism with which we have had the biterest exeprience in North Carolina. Neither can there be successful defense of the Republicanism which has had control of this government at Washington till it practically has fallen into the hands of plutocracy. When the one taxing measure (the Tariff law), affecting the interests of every man, woman and child in the United States, is introduced and engineered through Congress by a multi-millionaire representing the money power and tariff beneficiaries of this country, as opposed to the interests of the people upon whom the burden of the tariff falls, it is time that any political party so dominated should be hurled from power as quick as the voters can get to the polls and cast their ballots in popular resentment.

The voters in the United States are going to do that very thing, too. The people have had enough. Insurgency is a Republican rebellion against the methods and system of a Republicanism which has taken the Goverment from the hands of the people and transferred it to predatory wealth." The great uprising of insurgent Republicans in the West means the overthrow of latter day Republicanism, trust controlled extravagant and wealth crazy. The Democracy is united against the foes of the people and the powerful popular protest against the burdens imposed by Republican legislation already has sealed the doom of the party which exploits the people for its millionaire favorites who own the party and control it in their own individual interest.

No argument, it strikes us, could be powerful enough to steer a North Carolinian from his duty to himself, his family, his State and his Nation and cause him to commit the folly of voting for any Republican at a time when a great victory for popular interests and rights, and for relief from exploitation, is assured throughout the length and breadth of the people's Republic, through the classes, with in econnowis the time forall ofthe the connivance of the Republican party, practically have taken it over as their own.

HOLDING UP THE PEOPLE.

The people have to pay the taxes levied directly and indirectly—the property taxes, the revenue taxes and the tariff taxes. The people who pay the taxes should levy the taxes, and it would seem the height of folly for them to permit themselves to be taxed by interests not in sympathy with them and having no consideration of their burdens. Yet, Senator Aldrich, a multi-millionaire and owner of millions of stocks in trusts, minipulates the tariff law which taxes all the people.

It would strike an idiot that a tax which he is to pay for somebody else's benefit should be levied by himself and not by the party who is to be benefited. Nevertheless, it has come to pass in this so-called free country that the beneficiaries of taxes levied for their benefit say how much the tax shall be. This is a plain proposition illustrated by the actual fact that the Rubber Trust, the Glass Trust, the Money Trust and other trusts are represented on the floors of the United States Senate and the House of Representatives, and it is left for them to say how much tariff benefits the people shall pay to enable their trusts to exploit the people by controlling the products and resources of America. It simply is a case of wealth taxing poverty. The predatory and greedy class helps itself without let or hinderance. The Republican party stands back of that infamous system.

If your memory has deserted you, put your hand on your heart, keep it true to North Carolina and don't vote for a single Republican in November.

The spieler who carries the Democratic flag from stump to stump in this campaign is out for the party that will win in the Nation as well as in the State.

"The Old Guard" in North Carolina was put out of business by Taft who began the work to be finished up by Moorehead and Butler. Roosevelt put a quietus on the Old Guard in New York. Everybody swats the Old Guard.

A loyal North Carolinian ought to get insulted at the remotest suggestion that any argument could induce him to go back on his native State by voting for the Republican party which has never failed to so debauch the State that Northern Republicans residents here become Democrats for the good of the State.

The Columbia State observes: "Solicitor Hammer of North Carolina is said to have delivered a striking political address a few days ago at a place called Big Lick. He is said to have hit the nail on the head." Sure. Hammer is just the kind of fellow to clinch an argument when he nails a Republican on the stump.

Says the Greensboro News: "The census bureau at Washington seems to have overlooked the fact that Uncle Sam had a number of enumerators at work in North Carolina last Spring." Never mind. Don't be impatient. The disappointing reports will come along sooner or later and it will be impossible for census takers to escape, for everybody will be in for heading them off.

Capt. Bogardus Again Hits the Bull's Eye.

This world's famous rifle shot who holds the championship record of 100 pigeons in 100 consecutive shots is living at Lincoln, Ill. Recently interviewed, he says: "I suffered a long time with kidney and bladder trouble and used several well known kidney medicines, all of which gave me no relief until I started taking Foley Kidney Pills. Before I used Foley Kidney Pills I had severe bachaches and pains in my kidneys and suppression and a cloudy voiding. On rising in the morning I would get dull headaches. Now I have taken three bottles of Foley Kidney Pills and feel 100 per cent. better. I am never bothered with my kidneys or bladder and again feel like my own self." Robert Bellamy.

CURRENT COMMENT.

"Many people want to know if the holders of the fradulent State bonds are behind Marion Butler in his effort to get control of North Carolina." Is the Greensboro News good authority?—Raleigh News and Observer.

We are said to be more conservative than the English. We are said to be more sentimental than the French. But to be all things by turns and nothing long is to justify the charge that we are hysterical—perhaps it depends on the leaders we accept.—Jacksonville Times Union.

Few men have ever received such an ovation as did Major Stedman in Durham last night. The court room was packed and jammed and people outside imagined Bryan had come to town. His speech was well received and is spoken of in the highest terms. Maj. Stedman is making a fine impression where he speaks.—Greensboro Record.

Godwin will defeat Meares for Congress by at least 7,000 majority. Many Republicans are now satisfied with the primary, and will vote with the Democrats. Henceforth and forever let us nominate every public officer by a direct primary, do away with court house conventions, and the Republican party in this Staet will go to pieces like a rope of sand.—Whiteville News Reporter.

Butler denies that he has ever had anything to do with the repudiated bonds. A Radical says: "Butler even refused employment by the bond syndicate." Refused? Who approached Butler to appear? Why was he approached? The Greensboro News, the recognized organ of the Republican party in North Carolina, in its issue of August 7th, had this editorial paragraph:

The only right kind of Democrat is the kind who said of himself yesterday: "I am over forty-five years old and I have never cut, split, mutilated or abbreviated a Democratic ticket." There are plenty of the true mlue of this kind. May their tribe increase! —Raleigh News and Observer.

The Greensboro News terms Dr. Faison, candidate for Congress, "Red Shirt Faison." There is no disgrace in that appellation in North Carolina. Besides being a badge of honor to the white man it has been a great blessing to the colored man. He who, before 1898, was depending upon Republican promises like that "forty acres and a mule" for race and individual salvation, is now busy building a home for himself and his family. More progress has been made by the negro population in North Carolina since 1898, than in all of the third of a century following the war during which they were hoping against hope that the political demagogues would make them rulers of men.—Maxton Scottish Chief.

ROSH HASHANAH.

The Celebration of the Jewish New Year Begins Monday.

On the evening of October 3 and the day of the 4th, the Jewish people will observe the Rosh Hashanah, or New Year's Day of the year 567.

The meaning and purpose of this festival is not set forth explicitly in the Bible; we are left to infer them from the Scriptural titles of the day, "The Memorial of Blowing of Trumpets (Lev. XXIII 24) and the Day of Blowing the Trumpet (Numbers XXIX 1) as well as from the fact that the Jewish New Year is the seventh new moon of the Hebrew calendar. In the Bible age every new moon was regarded as a solemn occasion, and the seventh, the sacred number, was especially so.

It became the day of the blowing of the trumpet—par excellence—reminding the Israelite that a new period of time begins; and that no occasion could be more appropriate for the endeavor after a new life for amendment and reconciliation with God. It was the day of memorial, when Israel felt himself held by God in merciful remembrance. But if Israel would have God mindful of him, he must be mindful of his responsibilities, to Him and to man's higher nature. The symbolic act of sounding the Shophar; or ram's horn, which is performed in the synagogues in obedience to the scriptural precept is intended to bring home to the Israelite this aspect of the day's meaning.

It is a solemn occasion, though not a mournful one. It is a day of chastened memories, a day of reflecting on man's frailty of character. But beneath this sombre sense of weakness, both physical and moral, there lies in the worshiper's heart the serene certitude of God's justice and mercy.

TIZ acts at once and makes tired, aching, swollen feet remarkably fresh and sore proof.

It's the sure remedy, you know, for everything that gets the matter with your feet. It's for sore feet and for sweaty, bad-smelling feet, and for corns, callouses and bunions, too.

"For years I have been troubled with sore and tender feet; suffered intense pains. Have had the assistance of physicians without relief. I bought a box of TIZ, which worked a perfect cure, as it has with a great many of my friends. I would not be without it. All it requires is to be known to be universally used." A. F. Dreutzer, Chicago.

SUPERIOR COURT TOMORROW

Two Weeks' Term for the Trial of Civil Matters With Judge H. W. Whedbee Presiding.—Cases for First Day.

The regular two weeks' October term of New Hanover Superior Court for the trial of matters on the civil docket, will convene tomorrow morning with Judge Harry W. Whedbee, of Greenville, presiding. A number of cases of interest have been set for trial at this term, and as usual there are a great many more cases on the calendar than can possibly be reached in the two weeks.

Judge Whedbee, who presided over the brief term of court for trial of criminal matters last week, returning to his home last Wednesday, will arrive on the train from the North tomorrow morning in time to open court.

The following are the jurors drawn for the first week of the term: Jas. Owen Reilly, H. E. Bonitz, Henry C. Bear, A. S. Jones, W. F. Carr, D. B. Branch, Benj. Lane, R. F. Beasley, D. S. Bender, E. H. Parker, C. T. Powell, W. L. Moore, C. F. Whitehurst, W. S. Register, E. P. Pleasants, F. M. Hopkins, J. I. Lockfaw, J. S. Canady.

The cases on the calendar for the first day are: Jas. McLaurin, adm., against Thos. McLaurin, J. W. Little, Esq., for plaintiff and Bellamy & Bellamy for defendant; Chas. S. Riley & Co., against W. T. Sears & Co., Herbert McClammy, Esq., for plaintiff; T. R. Williams against D. K. Futch, et al., Herbert McClammy for plaintiff, and E. K. Bryan and A. J. Marshall, Esqs., and J. D. Bellamy & Son for defendants; Mary E. Irving, et al. against Pembroke Jones et al., C. D. Weeks and W. B. McKoy, Esqs., and Greer & Koonce for the plaintiffs and Herbert McClammy, Esq., Rountree & Carr, Davis & Davis, Bellamy & Bellamy, and J. D. Bellamy & Son for the defendants; J. A. Burriss against the city of Wilmington, J. D. Bellamy & Son and J. W. Little, Esq., for plaintiff and Bellamy & Bellamy and Herbert McClammy for the defendant; S. J. Davis against the Tidewater Power Co., Herbert McClammy for plaintiff and Davis & Davis and Bellamy & Bellamy for the defendant; Geo. Acker, et al., against Elizabeth Pridgen, Bellamy & Bellamy for the plaintiffs and pie for the defendant; Wilmington Furniture Co., against W. T. Mercer, et al., C. D. Weeks, Esq., for plaintiff and L. V. Grady, Esq., for the defendants.

There are 19 divorce cases on the calendar for this term of court, but not all will be tried at this term. Some of the cases have been on the docket for a number of years and in several instances the couples have become reconciled and are now living together and in other instances either the plaintiff or defendant has died since the institution of the cases. The actions were placed on the calendar for this term of court in order to finally dispose of them. There are, however, several cases of more than ordinary interest to be tried at this term.

COURT RESERVES JUDGMENT

Testimony in Cases Against W. H. Millan Heard in Recorder's Court Yesterday—Defense Makes Strong Fight.

It takes almost as long to clear the Recorder's court docket of "blind tiger" cases as it does to round up the alleged violators of the law, owing to the fact that the defendants invariably employ able counsel and contest every inch of ground. In a two and a half hour session yesterday the testimony in cases against only one defendant was heard, the other cases being continued until Monday and it is not likely that all will be disposed of at that time for in addition to the several "tiger" cases the Recorder will have the usual large number of Monday defendants, no doubt.

The major portion of the time of the court yesterday was taken up with the hearing of testimony in two cases against W. H. Millan, who conducts a store at Seventh and Nixon streets, who is charged in one warrant with violating the prohibition law and in another with violating the near-beer ordinance of the city of Wilmington by selling "ni-beer" without license. By agreement of counsel the evidence in both cases was heard at the same time. The defendant was represented by Walter P. Gafford, Esq., while appearing for the prosecution was Marsden Bellamy, Esq., county attorney.

The first witness was Lang Sellers, upon whose information all the warrants in the wholesale arrest the other night were sworn out by members of the police department. Mr. Sellers testified that in company with D. T. Mayer he went to the store of the defendant Tuesday night about 8:30 o'clock and purchased a half-pint of whiskey; that they drank some of the whiskey and then purchased a bottle of near-beer as a "chaser". The next witness was D. T. Mayer, who accompanied Sellers to each of the several places they allege whiskey and near-beer were purchased. He corroborated the statement of Sellers. He said that he lived at 614 South Second street and in company with Sellers left there at 7 o'clock Tuesday evening and after visiting several near-beer places en route arrived at the defendant's store at 8:30 o'clock. He denied vigorously that he was with Sellers for the express purpose of corroborating any testimony the former might give concerning the violations of the prohibition law and near-beer ordinance, contending that he met Sellers by chance. He also denied that he had any understanding with any city official about securing evidence against alleged "tigers" or that he hoped to be rewarded for his services in this capacity. In reply to a question the witness said that he was never arrested but one time and this case was not allowed to go to the jury by the presiding judge. He said that Mr. Gafford appeared for him at that time. The whiskey alleged to have been purchased from the defendant's store was put in evidence after which Mr. Bellamy announced that the State would rest its case.

The first witness for the defense was the defendant himself. He testified that Sellers came to his store about 8:30 o'clock Tuesday night, but that he did not sell him any whiskey or near-beer; that Sellers gave him a drink of whiskey after which Sellers asked for a chaser and he then sold him a bottle of root beer; that Sellers left the store and later Mayer came in, looked around wildly and went out just after Sellers returned the second time. He testified that he did not sell Sellers anything on his second visit. He gave the names of several who were in the store at the time and they were later put on the stand to corroborate his testimony as to what took place.

Mr. Roy Cox was the next witness. He was in the store Tuesday night and corroborated the defendant. He was positive that the defendant did not sell Sellers any whiskey about 8:30 but would not swear that he did not make a sale later in the night. Mr. W. A. Rackley also corroborated the defendant. The next witness was William Loftin, colored, who said that at the time of the visit of Messrs. Sellers and Rackley he was playing set-back in the store with two other negroes. He testified that the defendant did not sell either any whiskey and that the stuff in the bottle alleged to be near-beer was root-beer. He said that the color was that of dark whiskey.

Capt. John Barry was called as a character witness for the defendant. Deputy United States Marshal C. O. Knox testified to the bad character of D. T. Mayer as did Mr. Jessie Haskit, while Mr. L. O. Smith and Health Officer J. C. Vereen testified that the general reputation of Sellers was bad.

At this juncture Woodus Kellum, Esq., stated that it looked as if it would be impossible to try all the cases yesterday and moved that the cases against Wosbe and Crain be continued until Monday. Mr. Bellamy was in favor of proceeding as far as possible yesterday. The Recorder stated that should an afternoon session be held not more than one case could be heard, therefore he granted the request for continuance, not only of the two cases mentioned, but all other cases until Monday.

The argument of counsel was then begun, Mr. Gafford speaking first. He argued that the case narrowed down to a question of veracity and he contended that the statements of the defendant and his witnesses should be accepted in preference to the statements of the prosecuting witnesses. He declared that the fact that the bottle of whiskey exhibited had been labeled by the prosecuting witnesses as having been bought from the defendant was no evidence that the whiskey had actually been purchased from him, for, he declared, such men as they were liable to work up a job on a person, come and swear to a lie as quick as they would to the truth. He hooted at the statements of witnesses that they had not been promised something for their services in working up such cases.

Mr. Bellamy agreed that it was a question of veracity and contended that the statements of the prosecuting witnesses could be relied upon; that despite the efforts of the opposing counsel it had not been shown that the defendants had been convicted of any heinous crimes. The circumstances, he said, show strongly that they did not intend to "trump up" charges against Milan; that if they had wanted to 'trump up" charges they would not have gone in the store when there were several present.

When Mr. Bellamy had concluded his brief argument the Recorder announced that he would reserve his decision until the other cases have been disposed of.

Hoyt Kennedy was given hearing on the charge of assault with serious injury upon C. H. Stocks about two weeks ago. It is alleged that Mr. Stocks' jaw was broken by the force of the blow. The men, it appeared, had a disagreement about a business matter, the lie was passed and then blows followed. The defendant was represented by Woodus Kellum, Esq., while L. Clayton Grant, Esq., appeared for the prosecution. The Recorder reserved his decision until Monday.

Boy Mitchell, colored, was found not guilty of the charge of stealing a watch some nights ago. He failed to appear some days ago as a witness in against him and he is being held until the amount is settled, or will go to the roads for 30 days.

Police Guard Mayer's Home.

Declaring that friends of some of those indicted for selling whiskey and near-beer had threatened to do him bodily harm, Mr. Mayer yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock appealed to Mayor Walter MacRae for protection. The Mayor told Mr. Mayer that he might rest assured that ample protection would be given him. The Mayor later stated that he would request the police to guard the home of Mr. Mayer and if there were not enough officers to spare a sufficient number for this purpose he would organize a crowd himself and do duty during the night. Chief of Police Williams had to be at home on account of a very sick child and Assistant Chief of Police Woolard assigned three patrolmen to guard the home of the witness Mayer. It was stated last night that the same officers did duty around Mayer's home Friday night, but he probably did not know it. It might be stated that no demonstration against the witness is feared.

MRS. ANNA G. COWAN DEAD.

Beloved Wife of Mr. A. B. Cowan Passed Away Yesterday.

Many friends will learn with sincere regret of the death of Mrs. Anna G. Cowan, beloved wife of Mr. A. B. Cowan, who passed away at the family residence, No. 303 Hanover street, at 4 o'clock yesterday morning, after an illness of some months. The grief-stricken husband and children have the heart-felt sympathy of numerous friends in their sore bereavement. Mrs. Cowan was a most estimable woman and bore her long suffering with Christian fortitude and patience. She was held in the highest esteem by all within her circle of her acquaintance and the announcement of her death will bring genuine sorrow to many hearts. She was 35 years, nine months and 29 days old and besides her husband leaves seven children, among whom are Mrs. H. J. Bland and Mrs. Lee Chadwick, and one son and three single daughters, all of whom reside in this city.

The funeral services were held from the late residence at 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon, conducted by Rev. C. F. Whitlock, pastor of Brooklyn Baptist church, in the presence of a large assemblage of relatives and friends. Following the service the body was tenderly borne to the union station and was taken on the 7 o'clock train to Rocky Point, where the interment will take place today.

THE COTTON MOVEMENT.

Small Receipts for Month on Account of Late Season—Naval Stores.

Cotton receipts at the port for the month of September according to statistics posted yesterday at the Chamber of Commerce, were considerably behind the same month last year, on account or the late season. The receipts were 48,032 bales against 73,037. The market is quoted at 13 1-2 cents on the basis of middling.

Two items in naval stores show a decided increase over the receipts of last season, as follows: Spirits 1,195 casks against 936 last year; rosin 6,000 barrels against 3,404 last year, for the corresponding month. The price of rosin is almost double that paid at this time last season, being quoted at $5.80 on the local market.

DIED.

On Tuesday, September 20th, 1910, at 4:15, Mrs. Lydia Joselyn the mother of Miss Lizzie Scull and Mrs. Jennie S. Dry, in her 80th year. A sainted lady has been called from labor to reward, one who feared God and believed in righteousness, truly she wanted nothing that she could not have, therefore she always had what she wanted. Was born in Bladen county May 10, 1830, came to Wilmington at eight years old, professed religion at 12 years, lived a consistent Christian life up to her death, covering a period of 68 years in the service of God. She connected herself with the Front Street Methodist church. After worshipping there for quite a number of years she removed her membership to St. Stephen's. There she did her Christian work, though failing in health for more than four years, up until the silver cord was loosened. During the period of her early life she was married to Mr. James Scull, who preceeded her to the Heavenly land many years ago. In about the year 1875 she was married to Mr. David Jocelyn, whose eight children she fostered and trained them as her own which made them love her dearly. He, too, preceeded her to Heaven about 25 years ago. Since then this good woman has lived alone awaiting the coming of the Lord. Always abounding in Grace, keeping as her watch-word "Blessed is the Peace Maker." It mattered not how high the billows rolled or how the tempest raged she kept her captain's eye. About near 40 years ago she with Mrs. J. M. Johnson (who preceeded her about six years ago) Mrs. Elsie Cain and others founded and organized Ineal Tent No. 22, of the U. O. of J. R. Gidding and Jollifee U. in there she stood as Counselor Adviser and received the love and respect of the sisters. Was made treasurer, held the office for 35 years, up until her health began to fail, then she resigned. Ofttimes she would rehearse over the untiring work she had done in this service with her co-workers so many had gone on to the haven of rest. So few were left to share that loyal love one with the other that she could see and talk with. They had failed to carry out their obligations to her still she never murmured nor complained, loved them just as dearly for she was preparing to join with the tents—Celestial on the other side. The funeral services were held at St. Stephens A. M. E. church on Wednesdy, 3:30 P. M. September 21st, 1910. The funeral was conducted by her pastor, Rev. G. D. Carnes, D. D., text 2nd Timothy 4th chapter, 7th verse. Eulogized by Revs, L. D. Kennedy and Ed Robinson, the latter having known the deceased 57 years. Hymns used by request of the deceased were "Servant of God well done, the Battle Fought, the Victory Won," and "How Happy is Every Child of Grace Who Knows His Sins Forgiven." The floral offerings from friends were many and beautiful. She was buried by her daughters. The Tent sisters turned out in part and she was tenderly laid to rest with the honors and burial ceremony of the U. O. of Tents.

"He liveth long who liveth well!
All other life is short and vain.
He liveth longest who can tell
Of living most for Heavenly gain."

He is a deep thinker and a pleasing speaker. It is desired that every member be present at the anniversary services today. HELPFUL REVIVAL CLOSES.

Wrightsboro Baptist Church Increases Its Membership.

A very successful revival meeting at the Wrightsboro Baptist Church closed Friday night. It is believed that much good was accomplished and as a result of the meeting there were 10 additions to the church, six by letter and four by Baptism. The meeting was conducted by Rev. P. J. Hood, evangelist, of Wayne county, who is a preacher of ability and power. The members of the church feel that hey were indeed fortunate and the pastor made no mistake in securing the services of the able divine to assist in the revival.

Shorthand Reduced to Geometry.

There has been devised by Mr. H. H. Ford of, this city, a unique "daisy" outline which compirses all the characters of shorthand. This sketch shows the outlines in their natural positions and their reference to the geometrical outlines. The angles of the characters and their relative chords and tangents are shown, demonstrating that the modern Pitmanic system as practiced by reporters and shorthand writers in general is based upon a very scientific principle. A copyright has been applied for by Mr. Ford. The sketch is on exhibition at the drug store of Messrs. Jarman & Mintz, 107 Princess street.

THE TEMPLE OF ISREAL.

Interior of Synagogue in Hands of Well Known Decorator.

When members of the Temple of Isreal gather Monday evening at sunset for the first service in celebration of the Jewish New Year, they will be pleased to note the change in the interior of the Synagogue, which has been in the hands of Mr. Edward Snyder, the well known and talented fresco decorator, and his able corps of assistants for the past three weeks. Many have inspected the work during the past few days and they unhesitatingly declare that the interior of the Synagogue is not surpassed by any other house of worship in the country. The ceiling has been covered with canvas and painted in appropriate colors and the walls have also been most appropriately painted, with imitation of cornice work which is well nigh perfect. The most interesting work perhaps is the imitation marble in the ark. On either side are two large marble columns, apparently, one on either side is the real marble and one is the imitation as turned out by the artistic brush of Mr. Snyder and his assistants. If any one can detect any difference without close examination it would be in favor of the imitation. The seats have also been varnished and the interior of the house of worship otherwise greatly improved in appearance. Mr. Snyder is an artist in his line of work and decorated some of the leading churches and theatres in London, England. He is a German by birth and has been in this country only four years, coming from New York, and now makes Wilmington his home. He has nine talented and experienced assistants, three of whom have been engaged on the work in the Synagogue.

MILD, GENTLE LAXATIVE FOR WOMEN GIVEN FREE

So many of the ills of women are due to habitual constipation, probably because of their false modesty on the subject, that their attention cannot be too strongly called to the importance of keeping the bowels open. It is always important to do that, regardless of the sex, but it is especially important in women.

From the time the girl begins to menstruate until menstruation ceases she has always vastly better prospects of coming through healthy if she watches her bowel movements. If you find yourself constipated, with bad breath, pimply complexion, headaches, belching gas and other symptoms of indigestion and constipation, take a small dose of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It is a woman's favorite laxative. You will find that you can do away with salts, strong cathartics, etc., which are entirely unsuited to woman's requirements.

Mrs. Katherine Haberstroh of McKees Rocks, Pa., and Mrs. A. E. Herrick of Wheeler, Mich., who was almost paralyzed in her stomach and bowels, are now cured by the use of this remedy. A free sample bottle can be obtained by addressing Dr. Caldwell, and after you are convinced of its merits buy it of your druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle.

Dr. Caldwell does not feel that the purchase of his remedy ends his obligation. He has specialized in stomach, liver and bowel diseases for over forty years and will be pleased to give the reader any advice on the subject free of charge. All are welcome to write him. Whether for the medical advice or the free sample address him Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 541 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

REQUIRED TO GIVE BOND.

Chas. Carter, Colored, Tried Yesterday on Peace Warrant.

Charles Carter, colored, was given a hearing before Justice Bornemann yesterday at noon on a peace warrant sworn out by David Hilton, colored, resulting from a disagreement between the two negroes relative to a contract the former had with the latter for doing some carpenter work. There was some evidence that Carter made threats against Hilton if he did not receive from him the full amount he claimed was due, but after examining all the witnesses except th edefendant himself the justice, he stated later, was in doubt sa to whether the evidence was sufficient to require a bond of Carter to keep the peace. The justice said that Carter went on the stand and manifested that attitude that actuated Hilton swearing out the peace warrant, referring to Hilton as a rattlesnake and a person who would do most anything. The defendant was represented by B. G. Empie, Esq., while W. P. Mangum Turner, Esq., appeared for the prosecution. The justice asked that it be stated that he had never heard a more able and eloquent argument than that of Mr. Turner, who showed, said the justice, the importance of giving protection to law abiding citizens against "brutes," the last word being a favorite one with the justice recently. The justice said the argument was so strong and ably presented that even he himself had learned something from it. After the argument of counsel the justice announced that he would require the defendant to give $50 bond to keep the peace for two months. This was given.

CITY SCHOOLS OPEN TOMORROW.

First Meeting Yesterday of Teachers. —Schedule Mapped Out.

Final arrangements for the new school year, which begins tomorrow morning, were perfected yesterday at meetings of the teachers. The meetings were well attnded and each and every one showed great interest. The schedule of work for the entire week was mapped out in detail. No time will be lost in putting the regular programme into effect. A pencil and note book will be required by all pupils in order that a record of all lessons to be assigned for Tuesday may be taken down. All High School pupils are requested to bring their text books on Monday.

All the schools will open at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning and the indications are for a record breaking attendance in each. The enrollment last Friday was the largest in the history of the schools, there being 198 at Union and more than 100 at Hemenway who have never attended school.

A large number from the county schools have enrolled in the High School for the year. The annex to the High School building will be completed, it is thought, within a month.

THEATRICAL

It will be decidedly interesting, as well as gratifying news for theatregoers of Wilmington to know that 'In Panama" the brilliant success of the Rogers Brothers, was booked yesterday for the Academy of Music, and that the date is close at hand. Mr. S. A. Schloss, head of the Schloss theatres, yesterday afternoon, by wire, obtained a date for Wilmington, Monday night, October 10th, one week from tomorrow night, and is highly pleased, naturally, over the accomplishment. "In Panama" is one of the greatest and biggest musical shows ever presented, and its run and popularity has almost been on a par with that of "The Merry Widow. The production in Wilmington will be made the same as in New York City, so something magnificent in way of a musical comedy production may well be expected.

Seats will go on sale the usual two days in advance.

Big Musical Attractions.

A rare chance to hear noted musical stars—ones who play the Metropolitan Grand Opera House, New York City—is now being offered the people of Wilmington, such being promoted by Mr. Robert H. Cowan and a well known and ardent music lover of this city. Whether or not the two attractions will play Wilmington depends upon the support given; the interest manifested in them by the music-loving public of this city. Dates, or rather an opton or dates, have been secured for recitals by Rita Fornia, a noted soprano, direct from the Metropolitan Grand Opera House, and Arturo Tibaldi, one of the best known of violin celebrities, and Mme. Liza Lehman and her popular quartette of noted soloists. The date for the former attraction is the night of October 14th. Consequently a canvass has already started and subscription lists have been opened so that some idea may be gotten as to the chance of giving these two superb musical attractions a guarantee to come to Wilmington. The Academy will be divided as to price, seats being sold for $1.50 and $1.00, and lists have been opened at Munson's, on North Front street, and at Plummer's confectionery establishment. Anyone desiring to attend the first attraction is asked to drop by either place and sign the list.

Rita Fornia is one of the best known sopranos in this country, and to be offered in connection with Tibaldi, will indeed present a brilliant musical treat, and will offer one of the rarest musical chances the people of Wilmington have ever had. Mme Liza Lehman is just as noted in the music world, and a chance to hear her is always considered a rare one.

It is hoped to make Wilmington's music season notable by bringing these two big attractions, and possibly more, to the city, but, of course, those promoting the events want to feel encouraged to some extent and desire to feel justified in signing contracts for the engagements. Both attractions are being routed through the South—at a very few places, however—by Mr. R. E. Johnson, who handled Nordica and later Damrosch in this section.

Fine Bill at Crystal Palace.

The bill at the Crystal Palace this week will be an exceptionally good one and will be of special interest to the ladies and children of the city; since the Four Musical Woods with their dog have been engaged as the feature. The Four Musical Woods are of an exceptionally talented family and and the music-loving public will doubtless turn out in great numbers at each performance during the week. The youngest, five years old, is a very gifted and thorough musician for one of that age. Prof. James Goodman will enliven the bill with his witty sayings and jokes. He is one of the best ventriloquists on the vaudeville stage. Two new motion pictures every day. For a good time go to the Crystal.

Joyland.

Under the management of Mr. Ed. Reilly and with a splendid set of pictures, Joyland did a record breaking business last night. The Dog Circus was a very interesting picture for children. Program for Monday: "The Devil" and "The Letter Carrier," two splendid dramas. Mr. Zeb Winner will play the piano for Mr. Reilly and will intersperse the evening with musical selections of his own composition.

At the Bijou Tomorrow.

"The Golden Secret," the tale of a lost mine, an Indian's gratitude, and a wild race to file a claim by a plucky little woman, is the feature of the bill that will be offered at the Bijou tomorrow. It is one of the very best of the Western pictures, with scenery, riding and acting of the highest standard. Another picture that will prove of interest is "Willie", which is a bright Western comedy.

HINSHAW GRAND OPERA CO.

Will Give Concert at Boys' Brigade Armory Thursday Night.

This week will witness the opening of the Lyceum Course arranged by the Boys' Brigade for the Fall and Winter months, the first attraction being the Hinshaw Grand Opera Concert Company, which will appear at the armory Thursday night, October 6th. Mr. William Wade Hinshaw is the baritone and director and the following are the other members of the company: Miss Jane Abercrombie, soprano; Miss Frederica G. Downing, contralto; Mr. Luigi Cilla, tenor; Mr. Robt. Yale Smith, pianist, all of whom are artists. Practically all of the season tickets have been disposed of.

Y. M. C. A. SUPPER LAST NIGHT

Oyster Roast and Fish Fry at the "Lighthouse" Largely Attended. Address by Rev. Thomas A. Smoot Enjoyed.

No more enjoyable affair has ever been given in Y. M. C. A. circles than the oyster roast and fish fry at the "Lighthouse", Wrightsville Sound, last night. The association gives such an event every year and it is needless to say that the members look forward to the occasion with much pleasurable interest.

Invitations to the supper were sent out several days ago and some 50 members gave notice of their acceptance. Nearly all of these were at Front and Princess streets at 8 o'clock last night to board the special suburban car generously provided by the Tidewater Power Company to convey the party to and from the sound. Arriving at the "Lighthouse" shortly before 9 o'clock the members of the party were soon comfortably seated around the tables. Dr. Joseph Akerman, president of the association, presided. After the inner man had been thoroughly satisfied, Rev. Thos. A. Smoot, pastor of Grace Methodist church was presented.

Mr. Smoot, who is one of the most earnest and enthusiastic friends of the association in this city, made an especially able address and his discourse was listened to with the greatest interest by all within the sound of his voice. He used as his subject "Association Work," emphasizing the value of the organization in the community and its place in the church. He was glad to note the gratifying increase in the interest and work of the organization the past year over the year preceding and did not hesitate to say that still greater things would be accomplished by the institution.

The party returned to the city at 11 o'clock, all declaring the event to have been the most successful of any of the kind ever before attempted and assured the officers of the association that the evening was one of unalloyed pleasure.

Among those in the party were noted: Dr. Joseph Akerman, president; Mr. J. B. Huntington, general secretary; Rev. Thos. A. Smoot, Messrs. H. T. Lewis, O. C. Fillyaw, W. W. Miller, C. R. Delamar, K. W. Price, R. G. Davis, J. W. Pridgen, W. W. Koch, Thos. P. Strauss, C. L. Dickinson, J. B. Fenley, Jas. W. Lamb, C. L. Davis, M. B. Cockman, B. A. Thees, O. B. Parmell, G. L. Mitchell, J. F. Post, Jr., P. J. Triplett, J. S. Fortner, B. C. Boney, W. H. Andrews, J. T. Tyree, R. H. Griffin, F. S. Eckles, D. W. Loring, H. M. Kendall, C. B. Davis, H. S. McGirt, W. A. McGirt, Jas. Moore.

—Mr. W. W. King, the well known funeral director, has moved from South Second street, where he conducted business for some time, to the building on Market, between Second and Third streets, formerly occupied by the Evening Dispatch. The interior has been remodeled to meet the requirements of an undertaker's establishment.

Mrs. Daniel will gladly answer questions relative to culinary work. Her suggestions will be helpful to every one interested in preparing delightful, seasonable food. Demonstrations daily, between the hours of 10 A. M. and 12 Noon.

A dainty luncheon will be served each day, between 12:30 and 2:30, for 25 cents each. The proceeds derived from the sale of the luncheons will be devoted to the funds of the Hospital Circle of King's Daughters to further its work.

The Southern Cotton Oil Company has donated as many 9 1-2 ounce cans of Wesson Snowdrift Oil as the committee can dispose of for ten cents each. Money derived from the sale of this oil will be retained by the King's Daughters. This is an opportunity to secure a liberal sample of Wesson Snowdrift Oil at small cost, and also aid in the good work being done by this organization.

An attractive feature of the demonstrations will be the presence of an entertaining committee, composed of a number of the members of the King's Daughters. They will be assisted by several of the young ladies of Wilmington, who will act as waitresses at the luncheons. The women of Wilmington are asked to co-operate, to make the undertaking a success.

By special arrangement made in advance, Mrs. Daniel will receive not more than four colored cooks each day, to instruct them free of charge in culinary work. Cook books with complete instructions and recipes will be distributed gratis. Ask for one.

COTTON MARKET WAS NERVOUS

Advanced to New High Records on Late Months and Closed Firm After Moderate Reaction—Effect of Lockout.

New York, Oct. 1.—The cotton market was more or less nervous and unsettled today as a result of realizing for over the week-end and the governments reports on Monday and also because of the Lancashire lock-out which was said to affect 150,000 operatives. But after making new high records on the later months, a moderate reaction was followed by a firm close with last prices showing a net gain of 5 to 11 points for the day.

The market opened steady at an advance of 3 to 8 points on better cables than expected, suggesting that the English trade took very much the same optimistic view of the Lancashire situation as local bulls who believe it a cover for spot purchases. Selling was very heavy on the initial advance and immediately following the call prices eased off 4 or 5 points from the best, but there was active support from leading bulls and as soon as recent sellers found that the market was not responding to the bearish Lancashire labor news, covering sent prices up to a net gain of 5 to 17 points with January and later months making new high ground for the movement. Realizing then became very heavy and prices eased off 9 or 10 points from the top, only to rally again in the late trading on reports that the British government was bringing great pressure to bear in an effort to effect an immediate settlement of the Manchester labor troubles. Buying was probably encouraged by a private condition report confirming earlier expectations as to the showing of the government's condition figures on Monday. According to a canvass of the trade members of the exchange expect on the average a condition of 67 per cent. This will compare with the very low condition of 58.5 per cent. last year and indicate a comparatively slight deterioration for the month, but bulls argue that the crop is fully a month late and claim for that reason that the mathematical deductions from the condition figures will prove misleading and should not be regarded as discrediting the sensationally small estimates of the crop recently circulating. The census figures on ginning will be issued at the opening on Monday and the condition figures at midday.

Receipts at the ports today 45,824 bales against 48,444 last week and 61,697 last year; for the week 425,000 bales against 390,528 last week and 419,627 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 2,512 against 5,102 last year.

Spot closed quiet; middling uplands 13.75; middling gulf 14.00; sales 5,333 bales. Futures opened steady and closed firm.

INCREASE YOUR WEIGHT QUICKLY.

Simple Way for the Thin and Pale to Be Plump and Rosy.

Samose can hardly be termed a medicine, it is in reality a flesh forming food. Taken before or after meals, it mingles with the food you eat, enables it to assimilate and readily digest, so as to make rich blood and pleasing plumpness.

After Samose has been used a week or ten days a noticeable gain in weight is seen. The sallow complexion will become rosy, the sunken cheeks will have a ruddy glow, the eyes will be bright, the breath sweet and the step elastic.

J. Hicks Bunting's customers have told him of the remarkable results following the use of Samose, the great flesh forming food, that he is so thoroughly convinced of its reliability that he is selling it under his personal guarantee to refund the money if it does not do all that is claimed for it.

DULLNESS IN STOCK MARKET

Trading Was Narrow and Professional to Last Degree—Holiday Aspect on Market Yesterday—Movement in Coppers.

New York, Oct. 1.—Today's stock market was of the usual half holiday character—dull and narrow professional to the last degree. Opening prices were irregular and mixed with small infractional limits, but the undertone later became strong, the movement in the coppers, whose statical position seemed to have improved, being most conspicious. The active issues held their respective gains, Union Pacific Reading and United States Steel recording net material advances for the week.

Announcement by the Secretary and Treasury of the government's ability to maintain itself without a new issue of bonds until Congress assembles was accepted as a sign of betterment in the Federal financial situation, despite the deficit of $16,300,000 for the first three months of the fiscal year.

The extensive preparations for October disbursements of interest and dividend payments were reflected in the irregular bank statement, which in the table of actual conditions, showed a loss in cash of $18,300,000 while deposits fell off almost $23,000,000 and loans were reduced by about $7,400,000. In the average statement loans were increased by over $3,700,000 and the cash loss was only $10,400,000.

Among the day's noteworthy railroad returns was that of the Pennsylvania road, whose directly operated lines showed a decrease in net for August of $366,600 while operating expenses on the same system from January 1 to August 31 increased by over $10,000,000.

Bonds sales today aggregated par value $1,188,000.

Total sales for the day 148,100 shares including sugar 1,000; A. C. L. 800; C. & O. 8,400; L. & N. 200; Reading 20,900; Southern 1,300; Southern preferred 300; U. P. 19,800; U. S. Steel 18,700; V. C. C. 1,100.

EXPECT BULLISH REPORT.

Market Recovered From Decline—Small Transactions Yesterday.

(Special Star Telegram.)

New York, Oct. 1.—Liverpool opened lower on the weaker market here yesterday, but recovered most of the decline on the anticipation of a bullish report on Monday. The lockout appears to be regarded as so serious a matter that a settlement must be arranged in a short time. There is no change in the temper of this market the fluctuations representing smaller transactions in a limited market before the bureau, while the underlying opinion appears to be that the lower crop estimates will continue to bring in new buyers and that spinners will from now on be a daily support to prices. We do not hear a single bearish opinion expressed.

Friends of Engineer William Evans, of the Atlantic Coast Line, will regret to know of a very painful accident suffered Friday afternoon at Fayetteville as the result of having to jump from his engine to prevent being mashed in a collision with another locomotive. He was brought to his home, corner Fifth and Harnett streets, this city, Friday night and is being given attention by Dr. C. P. Bolles. He is badly hurt about the hips and back, but friends hope that there will be no permanent injury.

THE GRAIN MARKET.

FOUR DEATHS MAR VANDEEBILT RACE

suddenly burst a tire at the approach of the cement bridge crossing the Westbury road and becoming unmanageable, plunged over the parapet. The great machine went over twice in mid-air and landed on its side, crushing out the life of Mathew R. Bacon, Stone's mechanician, who was caught under it. Stone himself sustained fractures to both legs and internal injuries from which it is doubtful if he will recover.

The killing of Chevrolet's mechanician, Charles Miller came as the climax of a mad attempt of Chevrolet to regain a lead lost through frequent magneto and tire trouble. The daring French driver, who earlier in the race had reeled off round after round at 73 1-2 miles an hour, hurdled a bad rut in the back stretch with full power on and, landing on three wheels, found the car zig-zagging from side to side unresponsive to its steering gear. With a shriek of horror from the hundreds assembled at the spot, the car plunged into the fence and swept it away like so much paper, and then ploughed deep into a passenger laden touring car moored on the side of the road.

The impact was terrific and the five occupants of the touring car were tossed high in the air. All escaped death, but Miller was caught in the wreckage and instantly killed. Chevrolet was pulled out of the debris with a broken arm.

The third death of the day did not occur on the course, but an accident enroute to the race. Ferdinand D. Zubia, an automobile man, was the victim. His wife had both legs broken in the smash-up.

The Masapequa trophy, run over ten laps of the course, or 126.40 miles was won by car No. 51, Cole, driven by William Endicott. Time 2 hours 18 minutes, 43 1-5 seconds.

The Wheatley Hills sweepsstakes, run over 15 laps, or 189.60 miles of the course, was won by No. 46, Fal, driven by J. F. Galnaw, in 3 hours, 15 minutes and 6 4-5 seconds. No. 41,Fal, driven byW. H. Pearce was second.

ROBESON SECOND PRIMARY.

C. B. Skipper Wins For Clerk—Croatan Indians Meet.

(Special Star Telegraph.)

Lumberton, N. C., Oct. 1.—A second primary was held in this county today to decide between Clerk W. H. Humphrey and Mr. C. B. Skipper as to which should be the nominee of the Democratic party for Clerk of Superior Court. Nineteen out of 23 precincts heard from indicate that Mr. Skipper has defeated Mr. Humphrey by about 500 majority. Lumberton township gave Skipper 403, Humphrey 209.

A large crowd of Indian citizens of the county held a mass meeting at the Pembroke Normal School Thursday night. By special invitation Col. N. A. McLean was present and addressed the meeting. Resolutions were adopted asking for the change of their name by the next legislature from Croatan to Cherokee, for the making of adequate provision for their insane, for an appropriation sufficient to add another wing to the normal building and to purchase a tract of land near the school so that scientific agriculture might be taught the pupils. They also asked for an increase in the number of their teachers. The auditorium of the school building was crowded there being about 400 voters present.

bomb was first discovered at the Zeehandelaar home by a servant, who called an officer. Had not some part of the mechanism failed to work the house would probably have been demolished and its inmates killed.

Assistant General Manager Chandler, of the Times, says that an attempt was made to blow up the Times auxiliary plant at College and San Fernando streets a few minutes before the explosion destroyed the main building.

The succession of tragic events and the rumors of other attempted outrages set the populace of Los Angeles in a state of mind bordering on panic. Hundreds of policemen and detectives were busy in every direction running down clues and endeavoring to find the perpetrators of the crimes. Only two arrests were made and there is little indication of complicity on the part of the prsoners.

The president of the local typographical union issued orders that union printers may work in conjunction with the non-union printers of the Times in any of the local newspaper offices in setting up copy for the Times. This was announced after a consultation of the union men and the managers of the other newspapers.

The city council in special session today appropriated $25 000 for the purpose of determining the cause of the Times explosion and provide a reward of $2.500 for the capture of those responsible for the outrage.

The death list of the Times disaster which occurred this morning, will probably total 19. There are four known dead and 15 missing whose bodies probably lie in the still smoking ruins of the Times building.

In addition, there are about 20 injured, some of whom may die.

The original suspicion of the police that the Times building disaster was due to a heavy charge of high explosive was circumstantially confirmed by the finding of the other bombs and the statements of those persons in the building, or nearby at the time of the explosion. It is also almost certain that the explosion occurred in a narrow alley that separated the two buildings occupied by the Times.

Foreman Graybill, of the composing room, in which the full force of the explosion was felt, and where the greatest direct damage was done, is firmly of the opinion that it was due to dynamite in the alley. His statement is the clearest yet obtainable. He said:

"I was standing near the center of the composing room when all at once a terrible force from below seemed to raise a section of the floor clear to the roof. The upheaval came between two lynotype machines. Frames and broken timbers flew in all directions. The force of the thing was indescribable. Grant Moore, a machinist, was directly over the spit where the impact came through the floor. His body was hurled against the ceiling. E. A. Jordan, a head setter, and E. W. Wasson, a galley man, were nearest to him, and they, too, were hurled against the ceiling of the composing room.

Everyone of the type-setting machines was thrown and hurled in all directions."

PENDER COUNTY PRIMARY.

Nearly All Old Officers Renominated. Lucas for the House.

(By Long Distance Telephone.)

Burgaw, N. C., Oct. 1.—At 10:30 o'clock tonight returns are in from practically every precinct meeting in the county today, the possible exception being Canetuck, which will not materially affect the result. Reports are that the precinct meetings were well attended and that the Democracy is in good shape. Sheriff W. R. Atkinson seems to have a good majority for renomination over J. A. Murphy, while the majority of R. I. Durham for Register of Deeds over M. I. Bordeaux seems a safe one. Dr. Geo. F. Lucas, of Currie, will very likely be the nominee for the Legislature over Maj. A. K. Powers. It is hard to say about the county commissioners, but the indications are that T. J. Armstrong and J. F. DeVane are chosen with the vote close between F. P. Flynn and two opponents. It seems likely that R. K. Bryan, of Scott's Hill, will be nominated for clerk of the superior court over J. F. Johnson present incumbent, and J. R. Marshburn, of Maple Hill. While neither has a majority, it is said to be likely that Marshburn's strength will go to Bryan, making his nomination certain.

Rocky Point, N. C., Oct. 1.—Primary met 3 P. M. and elected W. E. Westbrook, J. E. Durham, T. J. Brown delegates to the county convention at Burgaw Monday. Ballot for offices resulted: Atkinson for sheriff, 53; Murphy 21. Register of Deeds, Durham 60; Bordeaux 1. Clerk of Court, Johnson 55, Bryan 10. County Commissioners, Armstrong 54; Alderman 54; Moore 47. Legislature, Lucas 25; J. T. Foy 6; A. K. Powers 6. Coroner, W. H. Peden, unanimous. Magistrates J. E. Durham, T. J. Brown, W. W. Miller. Constable, Miles Pittman. The Democratic slogan here is Good Roads and Lucas.

Atkinson, N. C., Oct. 1.—Caswell township elected delegates to the county convention as follows: Luke Glisson, W. S. Larkins, D. M. Lewis, D. T. Robinson; alternates, D. J. Black, Allen Hunt, E. D. Lewis and J. H. Colvin. A legalized primary was declared for enthusiastically.

150 MINERS ENTOMBED.

Result of Two Explosions—Entire Number Probably Dead.

Eagle Pass, Texas, Oct. 1.—One hundred and fifty miners, possibly more, are entombed, probably dead, in mine No. 2, at Palau, Mexico, in the LasEsperanseas mining field, operated by the National Railways of Mexico, as a result of two explosions, presumably caused by an accumulation of gas last night and early today.

The men entombed are mostly native and Japanese Miners although the number includes several Americans.

EX-GOVERNOR BROWARD DEAD.

Recently Elected to United States Senate From Florida.

Jacksonville, Fla., Oct. 1.—Napoleon Bonaparte Broward, aged 53, the choice of the Democrats to succeed James P. Taliaferro, as United States Senator, died just after being placed on the operating table at a local hospital shortly after noon today. The immediate cause of his death was gall stones, with complications. He had been ill for weeks.

For four years Broward was Governor of Florida and during that time commenced the drainage of the Everglades, which, when completed, will probably be the greatest single undertaking in Florida's history. After serving his term as Governor Mr. Broward was defeated for United States Senator by Duncan U. Fletcher. In June of this year, he defeated James P. Taliaferro at the Democratic primaries for United States Senator by a large majority and was regarded as the strongest political factor in the State.

Mr. Broward was a self-made man. Early in the seventies his parents died and he was forced to start to work as a tug-boat cook and roustabout. He worked in this capacity, practically illiterate, for several years and was in turn employed as a seaman, pilot and captain of small craft on the St. Johns river, until he purchased a third interest of the craft he made four expeditions to Cuba, once landing in the harbor of Havana despite the Spanish fleet.

He was elected sheriff of Duval county and served two terms. Afterward he was elected State legislator and Governor.

The cabinet of Governor Gilchrist met and passed eulogistic resolutions when news of former Governor Broward's death was learned.

He is survived by a widow and nine children. Funeral services will be held Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

THE HORRORS OF PELLAGRA

Probably One Thousand Deaths a Year In North Carolina From the Disease, According to the Board of Health.

(Weekly Bulletin.)

The importance of pellagra as a disease was brought home to the newspaper reading public last week when this obscure malady claimed for its victim one of the best known editors of our State, John M. Julian, editor of the Salisbury Post, was a public spirited man, and a man whose life, taken at the very meridian of its usefulness, was of great value as a public asset.

A terrible disease! Like some wild beast of the jungle that emerges under cover of darkness, seizes its victim, and escapes without being seen, so pellagra, of unknown origin and destined to strike next we know not where, continues to levy its deadly tax on the public health.

And, now, direct your sympathetic attention to the unfortunate victim: Suffering from a disease of fatal tendency, with its true nature unknown, he adds to his physical suffering the mental unrest of the fear that the hidden cause of the disease may even then be lurking in his home to drag down some other member of the family. Repeat this tragedy a thousand times, and you have a mental picture of what pellagra means to North Carolina in one year.

Since the first day of January, 1910, to September 1, 1910, there were reported through carefully collected official death certificates, now on file in the office of the State Board of Health, 79 deaths from pellagra. Our records do not extend beyond January. Now, 70 deaths in eight months meant an average of 8 3-4 deaths per month, or for 12 months 105 deaths. Our registration law covers only one-fourth the population of the State. For the whole State we would then multiply the 105 by four, which would make 420 deaths per year. Now, consider one more fact in making our estimate, namely, that the disease is new, and not more than one doctor in six or eight is yet able to recognize it. This simply means that a very large number of deaths from pellagra are unrecognized as such. Assuming that only as many deaths from the disease are unrecognized as are recognized, we are very probably near the truth in placing the estimate at about 1,000 deaths a year.

All this is a warning. Is pellagra spreading in our State? We don't know. Most authorities believe it is. Can it spread? We answer by quoting some figures given by Dr. Ed J. Wood of Wilmington, in a paper on the disease:

'In 1879 the number of cases in Italy was 97,855. About this time in Venetia among 10,000 deaths, 500 were due to pallagra. Since 1881 the number has declined materially, supposedly owing to the strenuous efforts on the part of the Government in the more careful inspection of Indian corn and in the improvement of the general hygienic conditions. Next to Venetia stands Lombardy, with 300 odd deaths, then Emilia, with 200 deaths. Umbria, and Tuscany attribute over 5 per cent of all deaths to pellagra. Neusser asserted that in 1886 in Venice, with a population of 36,588 natives, there were 1,086 cases of pellagra.

"In Roumania in 1885 there were 10,626 cases; in 1886 19,797 cases out of a population of 5,300,000. In 1892 there were 4,500 cases, in 1898 21,272 cases. Triller says that in 1906 in Roumania there were 30,000 pellagrins."

Then it did spread in other countries. It is a serious disease, and in itself is a strong argument for a better equipped State Board of Health than one whose total revenue from all sources does not amount to over $12,500.

But after all, there is something of inconsistency in all the newspaper excitement over this new disease. Why discuss the needs for knowing the means of preventing pellagra when we know how to prevent tuberculosis, hookworm, malaria, typhoid fever and other diseases, all of which, taken together, destroy ten or twelve lives in our State while pellagra takes one? Let us use what knowledge we have. Let us have a public health department adequate to investigate pellagra and, what is much more needed, to teach the people the life-saving facts already available.

Let no one misrepresent the meaning of these facts. North Carolina is just as healthy as any other Southern State—in fact, we have a death rate but slightly higher than the average death rate in the United States. We are to be congratulated on the fact that the very large proportion of our diseases are preventable diseases; but as a people, if we do not arouse ourselves from our indifference in matters of public health, we shall deserve the penalty of sanitary indifference and ignorance—disease and death.

And if there be those who believe in placing the candle under a bushel, who believe in withholding from the public the knowledge of the presence of disease until it becomes well intrenched among us, or those who believe it is hurtful to interpret the meaning of these sanitary facts for the people, may we seriously inquire of them, by what other means we may arouse the public to a proper sense of its obligations i nthis fundamental problem of public health? To the policy of publicity the writer is fast wedded. Our motto, in so far as in us lies, is: "Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free."

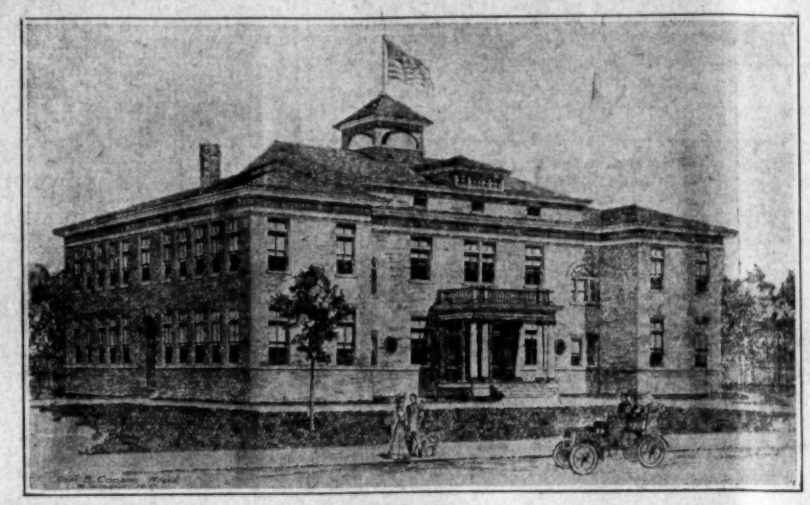
THE DELL HIGH SCHOOL INSTITUTE OF CREDIT

Few people in Eastern Carolina, not directly interested in the educational work of the Church, know of the really fine school at Delway, Sampson county, N. C., supported by the Baptist denomination and enjoying a fine patronage. This is one of about twelve Baptist secondary schools which are so distributed over the entire State of North Carolina as to embrace all the Associations of the State. The Dell school is located 12 miles from Rose Hill, in Sampson county, and has for its field the Eastern, Wilmington, Brunswick, Cape Fear Columbus, Robeson, Bladen and Cumberland associations and in addition to this, it draws considerable patronage from some of the northern counties of South Carolina. Mr. C. M. Beach is its principal and he is recognized as one of the leading educators of the State. He is assisted by his brother, Mr. W. L. Beach, Miss Mary Carlton and Miss Pearl Nance in the literary department and Miss Ethel Johnson as music teacher.



The rapid growth of the school is indicated by the fact that the entire enrollment for the term last year was 118 and during the first month this year 138 have been enrolled. There are at present 105 boarding students, most of whom are in one of the two boarding clubs. One of these clubs is for young men and the other for young women. There are upwards of 40 in each of these clubs and the board and room rent for the boys for the past month was $7.00 and for the girls $5.50. The cost of board varies, the method being to divide the total expense each month equally among the members of the club.

The school this year is being taught in the handsome new brick building not yet entirely completed. A cut of this splendid building is given above. It is 79 by 110 feet, two stories high and contains seven recitation rooms, two offices, two society halls, a library and an auditorium. This school is the property of the Baptists of the State but has represented in its student body all denominations.

COMMERCIAL FISHING

Edwin F. Walker of Evanston Writes of Day's Sport With Captain "Jim" on Cape Fear Fishing Boat.

(Evanston, Ind., Press.)

Bur-r-r!!! Went the alarm clock in the landlubber's room at the Stuart house at half past three. It seemed a crime to get up at that unearthly hour, but to a landlubber (and a fresh water one at that) the courteous invitation from the Captain Church of the "Compton" to see a day's commercial fishing was an opportunity not to be missed. For Captain "Jim" formerly of Rhode Island, was regarded as the leading menhaden fisherman along the coast and it was a rare privilege to go as his guest.

After stumbling across the town by the uncertain light of the stars and arousing the dogs to noisy activity, the steamer Compton was found at the end of her wharf with Captain "Jim" up on deck directing his men. He insisted upon the landlubber tumbling into his bunk and sleeping for three or four hours, promising to call him earlier if fish were found. The harbor was still and dark; it was a long way to the fishing grounds; it was a time a man should be asleep so the bunk was appropriated.

On deck again by half past seven, the scene was full of interest. The Compton was plowing along, about a mile from shore and something over twenty miles south of "the bar." In the bright sunshine the ocean was a most beautiful blue, with here and there a streak of green. It was comparatively calm, but the boat was rolling terribly in the trough of the sea. This, added to a powerful odor left by fish that had at sundry times occupied the hold, suggested the wisdom of testing a friend's tip that the way to avoid paying tribute to Neptune was to chew pepsin gum. It worked. And so when word to go down to breakfast came from Captain Jim, way up in his lookout at the top of the mast, the cook's layout looked very appetizing and proved to be as good as it looked.

Captain Jim all the while was calling out his orders—"Starboard," "Starboard," repeats the mate, and "Starboard," echoes the pilot. Then "steady, steady, steady," as the search goes on for schools of menhaden. The pilot points out to the landlubber a small school or "bunch" as they are called—a purple spot about a mile away on the sea of blue. He explains that this color comes from the back of the fish and that when the bunch is a "deep" one, the color is very red. It is for such a bunch that the captain is hunting—and soon comes his command, "All aboard!" It is loudly repeated by a dozen voices on deck. The men hurry to the stern and get into the large rowboats that are in tow. The captain quickly climbs down from the lookout and takes command of one of the larger boats, with a crew of ten men. The mate has a companion boat and crew. The officers are white men but the crew are black, men of great strength who have to have cool heads and to know how to use them in an emergency. The two large row boats, much resembling whaling boats, are held together by ropes and after they cast off from the steamer, start side by side as one boat for the bunch. They have in tow a smaller row boat, the sole occupant of which is a white man, known as a striker, his boat being called the striker boat.

As the steamer beats about, keeping far enough away not to frighten the fish, a glance through the glasse show the boats are rapidly approaching the bunch.

Suddenly the boats separate, the captain's going to the right, the mate's to the left and the striker's staying stationary at the point from whence they separate. Some of each crew are pulling at the oars and the others are throwing out the big net. The corks floating on the surface show that the net is beginning to describe a great circle, perhaps 300 feet across. The net is heavily weighted and will bring bottom in a depth of eighty feet.

Now the net is half out, the circle is half made, and from the way the crews bend to the oars it is clear that they are making every effort to complete the circle in time to enclose the fish. They succeed and then overboard goes the "old tom," a 200 pound weight in which are pulleys through which run the ropes that are used to purse up the bottom of the net just as the old-fashioned coin purse is closed at its top. The purse strings of the net go over other pulleys on the captain's boat. As the two boats are now together end to end, there are plenty of strong hands and arms that hurry to the laborious task of pursing up the great net. This takes quite a while, but the fish keep up the excitement. First they make a dash where the striker is holding up his side of the circle. They hit the net with tremendous force, making the water as foamy white as milk. They carry the net away past the striker boat but cannot carry it under, because of the valiant work being done by the lone man in the boat, a man with the muscles of steel, a man who, as the pilot expresses it, is "stronger than a jackass." Then the fish dash across the circle to where the two large boats are and repeat their attack all in vain, then round and round the net they go, bellying it out but not succeeding in breaking or sinking it. Some are jumping in the air, the sunlight flashing on their silvery sides. Others must be stirring up the bottom, for the water becomes tawny for a great space.

When the pursing up is completed, the hauling in of the net begins which is another work of the most arduous kind. Finally, the striker boat starts for the steamer, the striker standing up and rowing forward with long powerful strokes. "The striker boat—here comes the striker boat"—calls out the pilot. "Look out for the striker boat, ready for the striker boat on deck there," come the varying echoes.

The boat is alongside, a rope is thrown and the striker is aboard like a cat. "Now you'll see the captain's signal in a minute," explained the pilot. Of all the figures silhouetted so interestingly against the horizon the captain is easily distinguished. He has been standing at the stern of his boat all the time, steering till the net was placed and then directing the work. Now he waves his hat, and with quick orders the pilot has the Compton under way.

He brings her alongside and slows her down so skillfully that she stops just when he completes the triangle begun by the two boats which are still end to end, with the net drawn up into a deep well bewteen them all. Ropes are quickly thrown and made fast, holding the boats and the side of the net to the steamer. What a picture the dusky fishermen make as they are resting for a minute while the steamer does its part! On every face there is a look of satisfaction, for the catch is a good one.

All fast. And the captain, setting example, calls out, "Now then, way back!" and grasps the net and begins to tug at it to make the well as small as possible before the fish are dipped out. "Way back, way back!" yell the men as the muscles knot in their arms and they strain and pull till they are leaning way backwards over the side of the boat. The mate and his crew are tugging at their side in friendly rivalry. "Now, now again, way back with her!" and the operation is repeated time after time. The net is dripping wet, but the men have on their slickers and are working in their bare feet and so do not mind the water or hesitate at the captain's final order, "Now sit on it!" The net is up enough now, showing an almost solid mass of fish which are swimming about or jumping in the air, thousands upo nthousands of them, a sight that has to be seen to be realized.

Then the donkey engine gets noisly busy and hoists the great dip net, capacity six barrels. Its massive handle is guided by a young giant of a negro who sings at his work. Two ropes also run from the rim of the net to the hands of men who help direct its activities.

Up in the air goes the net— and down into the mass of fish, till it is lost to view—then up, up, bulging with its silvery load—over the center of the steamer above the vast emptly hold, yawning for its prey—a terrific jerk on a rope attached to the bottom of the dip net upsets it and its load dashes to the bottom of the hold with tremendous force. Some of the fish bound in the air till the sight is like a Fourth of July silvery shower—but most of them move no more and it is hard to suppress a shudder at the first sight of so many thousand lives ended in an instant.

Back goes the net for its living load to the songs of the men—a harmonious—"Ho and ho yea-ho!" the whole scene being more like a story out of a boy's book of adventure, than a practical every day American business.

Time after time the net goes back till the menhaden are all in the channel house—a hundred barrels of fish! —All of them dead within a few minutes under the hot sun which is so bright that it makes it positively painful to the eyes to continue looking at the glistening silver.

These menhaden or "fatbacks," as they are called, are not good to eat, but are used for the manufacture of oil and fertilizer. The few edible fish and shrimp that are caught with them are eagerly "jigged" by the crew who use long handled spears for the purpose.

No sooner was the loading begun than the captain was up on the lookout again and as soon as it was completed, he had the Compton under full steam in pursuit of another bunch. His eagle eye can locate them at a distance of three or four miles, but a nearer view often tells him that a school is not large enough, is too scattered or too wild to make it advisable to go after them. The captain's skill as a fisherman is something his crew are very proud of and it was a unique experience to hear them glorying in it behind his back. The zeal the crew put into their daily work and the pride they take in their success is something one would look far to find outside of the old cowboys of the plains.

Almost before the men can shovel into the hold the fish that have been scattered on the deck, comes the call "All aboard," and they are off again.

This time, with the same tremendous labor, the catch is about sixty barrels, and the next haul is only thirty, and there is no singing.

The cook comes to the rescue with an early dinner 10 o'clock that whistle is welcomed with a sigh of relief. The feature of the meal is the fresh fish—no question about their being strictly fresh—they were fairly jumping when they struck the frying pan—blue fish, butter fish and Spanish mackerel.

OUTLOOK FOR FALL & WINTER

Widespread Building and Industrial Activity Indicated by Reports to Manufacturers' Record—Important Announcements For the Week.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Baltimore, Sept. 29.—Reports to the Manufacturers' Record from all parts of the South show the organization of many new industrial enterprises, and great activity in road building and in municipal improvements.

These reports, covering the whole South at every line of industry, including plans for developing mineral and timber lands, the construction of waterworks and sewerage systems, street paving operations, electric light and power plants, and other movements indicative of business conditions, give promise of wide-spread building and industrial activity this Fall and Winter.

Among the more important enterprises reported during the week are details of the construction, now under way, near Marshall, N. C., of a hydro-electric power to cost $400,000 and to develop 5,000 horse-power for electric transmission to a number of industrial and resort towns in that vicinity; Morris Co., of Chicago, have applied for a franchise to build at El Paso, Texas, a packing plant including a cotton seed oil mill and other industries, at a cost of $1,000000, it being their intention to expend this amount within the next twelve months; A. H. Richardson, of Ansonville, N. C., is reported to have decided upon the construction of a hydro-electric plant to cost $400,000 and to develop 6,000 or 7,000 horse-power; the Wm. N. Rice Institute, Houston, Texas, which has an endowment of $7,000,000 for the establishment of a university has begun the actual work of construction of its buildings by letting the contract at $182,430 for its mechanical laboratory and power house; the plans contemplate the ultimate erection of forty buildings in the university group; a New York company will spend about $90,000 in building at Hagerstown, Md., a plant for handling milk and cream, and out of the milk-products manufacturing glue, buttons etc.; the Grave Creek Coal and Coke Company has been organized at Moundsville, Va., with a capital stock of $500,000 by Pennsylvania capitalists to develop 5,000 acres of coal land; the Linton Coal Company incorporated by Georgia people for the purchase and development of 6,000 acres of coal land in Alabama; the Delcarbo Coal & Coke Company, incorporated at Logan, W. Va., with a capital stock of $100,000 for coal mining operations.

The State of North Carolina is preparing to let contracts in the near future for draining several hundred thousand acres of wet or swamp land, while Western people continue to make large investments in wet lands in Louisiana for reclamation purposes, Mr. C. E. Phillips, of Eau Claire, Wis., having purchased 80,000 acres of land near Gueydan, La., with a view to reclaiming and development for farming operations; while Nebraska people have bought 50,000 acre tract of land in Florida. Many other Western land operators are investing opportunities in the South for the purchase of properties for colonization, and from Texas and Florida especially there are many reports of a large influx of

THOMAS DIXON MAKES REPLY

He Takes Issue With a Critic Regarding "The Sins of the Father," his New Southern Play.

In his criticism of Thomas Dixon's latest play, "The Sins of the Father," the reviewer in the Richmond "Times-Despatch" contended that there were certain features of the production that constituted an offence against moral decency. This contention brought forth the following reply from Mr. Dixon:

To the Editor of the Times-Despatch:

Permit me a few words of reply to my critic "W. D. C." who attacks my play, "The Sins of the Father," in this morning's issue.

To say that I am surprised at his position is to mildly express it. I am sure he could not find a single white woman of culture and intelligence in the crowd of 2,000 who witnesed yesterday's performance who will agree with one of his hostile statements. Scores of the best women I have the honor of knowing—Southern white women—have thanked me with deep feeling for writing the play. Mrs. Elizabeth Gilmer, a refined and brilliant little Southern woman from New Orleans, who writes for the New York Journal as "Dorothy Dix," saw our last rehearsal in New York and wrote me a personal letter from which I quote a few sentences:

"No Southerner can deny that just such tragedy as it portrays has happened a thousand times. Its problem is the most terrible of all the sex problems with which we have to deal, but it is puerile cowardice to shut our eyes to it and refuse to face it. Every quadroon and octoroon is a visible witnes to this yellow peril that menaces every hearthstone, that endangers the health and life of every pure white and threatens the very canctity of the race. It is a bold theme you have taken but you have handled it with a marvelous dignity, delicacy and reserve. Your drama is more than a play. It is a sermon, a tract, a clarion call to maintain the purity of the white race that must thrill the heart of every man who listens to it and fill with gratitude women who have so often been the patent and pitiful sufferers of such conditions."

My critic says the play is "blatantly indecent." Will he be good enough to point out a single indecent word or picture in it from start to finish? He declares it to be "obnoxious." The only man to whom it could be possibly be obnoxious is one who is guilty of the sin it paints in vivid and terrible colors. It don't expect him to like it. I did not set out to write a defense of such men. Their crimes can't be defended. Who else should treat such a theme but a Southerner? Who else could do it? The South needs no pusilanimous defense of her criminals. Certainly I am not the man who cares to stoop to such an effort. The business of the dramatist is to hold the morrow up to Nature. I have done this in "The Sins of the Father" and to repeat my assertion that it is done with tenderness and delicacy. No man or woman with a clean heart and life can find anything "coarse" or "indecent" or "obnoxious" in it. If so, you will have to stop all the preachers from reading the Ten Commandments in pubilc. If my play is indecent every Evangelist and every pastor in America is equally guilty with me when he dares to read God's Word and tell his people the truth.

NATIONAL RURAL CARRIERS

Echoes From Great Convention Held in Indianapolis, Ind.—Vital Matters to Important Branch of Public Service.

Rocky Point, N. C., Sept. 30.—As we have no State organ, will you kindly publish clippings below from National Rural Letter Carriers Association in session tne past week at Little Rock, Ark., with an attendance of more than 300, President Elias Fry, of Indianapolis, in the chair.

Address of welcome by Mayor Strattman. A. C. Mays, president of the Arkansas State Association of Carriers formally opened the convention and welcomed the National delegates to Arkansas in the name of the State Association. Mr. Henry P. Coppedge, of Rockingham, N. C., made the responding address. In the afternoon Governor Donaghey made a fine address to the body that was full of wit, humor and pathos. Among the speakers were the Hon. Thos. E. Wicker, of South Carolina; Gen. P. V. DeGraw and Supt. of Rural Delivery Spillman. The carriers were handsomely enteretained by the capital city and the keys were turned over to them literally.

E. D. PEARSALL,
Vice-President N. C. R. L. C. A.

Little Rock, Ark., Sept. 21.—Those members of the National Rural Route Carriers' Association favoring the Golden bill providing pensions for civil service employes won out in the convention today when the civil service pension committee voted to indorse the bill.

A warm fight has been on in the committee between members favoring the Golden and the Gillett bills, both of which are pending in congress. The former grants pensions to the civil service employes on practically the same conditions as pensions are granted to army and navy employes.

The Iowa and Illinois delegations, which, on account of certain constitutional requirements that they had not complied with, were not seated yesterday, were seated today.

The larger portion of today's session was devoted to a general discussion of the good roads question and to hearing reports of the officers.

All the speakers urged the carriers to work for state and national good roads legislation.

President Freys, in his report, stated that he had petitioned the postmaster general for additional compensation of $52 a year for carriers for equipment and maintenance, and among the other things, for local parcels post, for a solution of the penny nuisance, that carriers be given a holiday on Christmas, and that extra compensation be allowed for routes of more than 24 miles distance.

The secretary's report showed receipts of $5,962.7, with disbursements of $2,757.14 for the past year.

Poor Pay For Rural Carriers.

(Editorial.)

Meeting in annual session in Little Rock, the National Association of Rural Letter Carriers is making a determined effort to further the movement to secure a raise in salary for their important services.

For several years they have agitated peacefully for this adjustment through their organization, as permitted by the postoffice department, and several bills looking to the ends asked are now pending before congress.

So preoccupied has the government been in meeting the phenomenal demand for the multiplication of rural free delivery routes that it has little

ONE GREAT NATIONAL EVIL

Rev. H. H. George, Field Secretary of National Reform Association, Speaks of Laxity of Divorce Laws—The Remedy.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 1.—Rev. H. H. George, of Beaver Falls, Pa., a field secretary of the National Reform Association, arrived here yesterday, 27th inst. At the Third Church of the Covenanters, Kensington, he discussed the coming World's Christian Citizenship Conference with particular reference to the divorce evil, saying:

"Two of the most gigantic evils that ever preyed upon any land are now spreading their baneful influence over this land. The one is the liquor evil wasting annually $400,000,000 of the nation's money and slaughtering 150,000 of its inhabitants every year. How can it be possible that an intelligent, to say nothing of Christian, people can endorse such a fearful destruction of men and means? Did a foreign foe make such deadly ravages on us the country would be aroused from center to circumference? The other giant evil of which we wish now to speak more particularly is that of divorce, the wholesale breaking up of families that is going on in this land as in no other beneath the sun. While ratio of increase of population in the country for the last twenty years has been eighty per cent., the ratio of divorces has been one hundred and sixty per cent., double that of the population.

The Syrian poet, Ameer Ar Rihone, says there are more polygamists in New York City today than in the Ottoman Empire. Among polygamists he includes divers parties living in illicit relations. It is estimated that there are 65,000 divorces granted annually in the United States, that is 65,000 families broken up, husbands separated from wives, parents from children, 65,000 families shipwrecked. Suppose we estimate an average of three children to a family, and we have 195,000 children, or in round numbers 200,000 children, annually torn from family restraints, wrested from parental care and guidance, and thrown upon the wide stream of vagrancy, dissipation and demoralization. Is it any wonder that a vast number of tramps, professional beggages, thieves and thugs should be maintained year after year in our midst? Two hundred thousand children without that family training that is necessary to make good citizens out of them! That divorce mill is grinding every day and more family shipwrecks are added to the list of yesterday.

How are honest, pure-minded, Christon men and women to rest while such a family-rending process is going on?

Over 500 children a day sacrificed upon the bloody alter of lust and cruel passion. And who is perpetrating this evil, who is running this mill, who is breaking up these 65,000 families? The State governments that have coined from thirty to forty different reasons for granting divorces. When He who made man at first and constituted the family, the family relation, pronouncing it inviolable while the parties lived, granted that for one cause and for only one, the relation could be dissolved, why should human governments presume to be wiser than He who constituted the family? No subjects ought to arouse the people of this Nation more intensely than that of liquor and divorce! These will be the prominent subjects before the World's Christian Citizenship Conference. Are these evils consistent with the Christian principles of civil government? Will not a Nation resting firmly on such Christian principles of government extirpate these evils?

Men who are thoroughly acquainted with such subjects and as well with the philosophy of government will be at this conference to discuss such questions, and everybody interested in the welfare of the country, in the good of the present and coming generations, ought to be there to hear them."

Dr. George will co-operate with Rev. J. S. McGaw, of Pittsburg, and the local committee of One Hundred, organized to perfect plans for the World's Christian Citizenship Conference.

DAIRYING IN THE SOUTH.

How the Interests of the Farmer Would be Conserved.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 27.—Dairying is growing in popularity among the farmers of the Southern States. They are learning that the dairy cow can do for the cotton grower of the South what she has done for the wheat grower in the North, i. e., increase the fertility of the soil in addition to making most satisfactory returns for labor and money expended for feed.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has been giving particular attention to this question in the Southern States the past few years and a great service has been rendered. A great impetus has been given to the dairy movement until now there are thousands of influential dairymen singing the praises of the dairy cow and demonstrating by actual experiments that dairying is the salvation of that section of the country.

Certain politicians, in order to create an issue by which they might retain office, have greatly retarded the development of the dairy indstry in the cotton growing states by creating the impression there that the interests of the cotton grower are opposed to those of the dairyman. It has been brought about in this way: Cottonseed oil is used in the manufacture of some kinds of olemargarine. This has been used to prejudice the cotton producer against any and all kinds of legislation which in any way regulates or restricts the sale of olemargarine.

A careful estimate compiled from government reports shows that which was used in the manufacture of olemargarine last year, the cotton growers of the south actually received one and one-half cents for every acre planted to cotton!

For every dollar's worth of cottonseed oil used last year in making olemargarine, one hundred and seven dollars' worth of butter was produced in those same cotton growing states.

These are facts which every cotton producer should consider before lending his suport to any movement which is intended to retard the growth and development of the dairy industry in the south.

FOR CHRISTIAN CITIZENSHIP

Great Conference to be Held in Philadelphia in November—Prayers of the World Will be United this Month.

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 30.—From at least 100,000 pulpits two sermons will be preached next month, and prayers will be uttered as a part of the educational campaign incident to the World's Christian Citizenship Conference soon to be held in Philadelphia. It is estimated that not less than 456 languages and dialects will be used in this propaganda.

It was proposed to make the second Sunday in October a day of universal prayer for the executive officials of all nations, cities and towns of the world, and in this day ministers and missionaries in all parts of the globe will conduct special services with particular reference to governmental advancement.

Rev. Dr. T. P. Stevenson, corresponding secretary of the National Reform Association, has issued the call for this day of prayer. It was distributed to the missionaries through the various Boards interested in missionary work and through religious publications so that preachers and teachers in all parts of the world would have an opportunity to prepare for the occasion.

The success of this call to prayer has led Dr. Stevenson to invite the ministers of the world to discuss the coming World's Christian Conference to be held in this city. The call issued by Dr. Stevenson reads as follows:

Attention has already been widely called to the World's Christian Citizen Conference to be held in Philadelphia, November 16-20, 1910. The program covers a wide range of important topics, including the fundamental principles which underlie all Christian civil government, and the practical questions which involve these principles. All the great problems of government—marriage and divorce laws, the relation of public education to Morality and Religion, Civil law and the Sabbath, the suppression of intemperance, the abolition of the war system, the cause and cure of political corruption, will receive treatment from competent hands.

Careful reports will also be made concerning the actual relation of all nations and governments to the various religions of the world. These reports will constitute a conspectus or review of the attitude of all nations toward religion, and will bring together a body of information which has never been collated before.

To widen and make permanent the results of this conference, the National Reform Association asks Christian pastors in all parts of the world, to preach two or more sermons during the intervening weeks, on the fundamental principles, which are to be discussed, or on some of the practical questions referred to above. Especially is it asked that sermons on national and civic government and public education be preached on the second Lord's Day, in October, or on the nearest Sabbath convenient thereto. This day, coming at the time of the year when schools everywhere have resumed their work, has been designated by several general assembles and other rligious bodies in the United States, as a day for prayer for all government officials and for the public schools. This day is not to be confused with the Day of Prayer for Colleges, which occurs in February. Colleges have their own problems, which are altogether different from the questions which are constantly arising in the field of common school education.

AUTOMOBILING.

New York is Now the Great Touring Centre of States.

New York, Sept. 27.—New York City is now becoming the touring center of the east. Thousand of motorists from New England, New York, Pensylvania, New Jersey and points farther South in addition to the leading cities of the West are making arrangements to visit New York for the purpose of witnessing the Vanderbilt Cup Race on October 1st over the Motor Parkway on Long Island.

Hundreds of inquiries have been received at the Touring Club of America asking for information regarding different routes with a particular reference to the most convenient method of reaching the racing center on the Motor Parkway. The Touring Club of America has provided a special bureau of information for the large army of motorists whose touring paths all lead toward New York. Many of these out-of-town visitors, taking advantage of the unusual delights of touring in the Fall season, intend to remain to witness the Grand Prize race on October 15th, making in the meantime tours of longer or shorter duration through New York and neighboring States.

Hotels and transportation companies are making special efforts to accommodate this great influx of motorists. Advices have been received at the Touring Club that many of the leading hotels in the Berkshires and other popular New England resorts will remain open until after the races on the Motor Parkway are concluded, owing to many requests for accommodations during the fore part of October, indicating the popularity of touring in the Fall season, as well as the wide-spread interest aroused throughout the country in the two big automobile racing events to be held on Long Island. All of the ferry lines connecting with Long Island City and other Northern shore centers of travel will provide special facilities for the quick transportation of thousands of cars. The Sea Cliff ferry, crossing the Sound from Rye to Sea Cliff, which will be patronized by many mortorists from New oYrk and New England, is making arrangements, in accordance with the suggestion of the officers of the Touring Club, to run its boats at frequent intervals during the day and the entire night preceding both the Vanderbilt and Grand Prize races, accommodating as many as 25 cars on each trip.

One important fact that will be prominently impressed upon the minds of every motorist who travels to New York in his own car to witness the coming races will be the charm of touring in the autumn season. It will undoubtedly be a revolution to thousands of automobile owners whose idea of long distance travel has been limited to the warm summer to learn that such a large percentage of motorists are beginning to appreciate the cooler period of the year for long distance touring.

For the motorist living in New York and vicinity, no section naturally offers so many delights at this time of the year for touring as New England. Here will be found superb scenic effects, good hotels with healthful and invigorating atmosphere. This statement does not mean to convey the impression that all of the popular New England touring resorts possess ideal roads. The experiences of many motorists during the past Summer have shown that many of the most popular routes offer very inferior roads. However improvements are constantly taking place and it can be safely said that no other part of America of equal area contains so many good roads as New England, New York and New York is at the present time constructing more improved highways than any other state in the union and has many scenic attractions to offer, particularly in the Catskills, Adirondacks and in the lake sections. New Jersey, considering her size has the largest mileage of improved roads of any state and offers a wide choice of mountain, lake and seashore scenery.

Great Neptune! What a blessing is a salt water appetite.

"All aboard!" comes from the captain who had only taken a bite at the table and finished his repast on the lookout. "All aboard!" yell the men and they snatch enough for a big mouthful and make a run for the boats.

This time it is a big catch. The smiles are all back, with interest, and a glad shout goes up as the captain calls out "All hands and the cooks!" And here they all come, jumping into slickers in a hurry, and help pull up the net which is so heavy with fish that it almost seems beyond the power of muscle to budge it. But it has to come; and what a load is there, some three hundred barrels of living fish!

After that the men get a few minutes' rest, but the captain does not seem to know such a word. He is aloft calling, "Port, port; steady, steady; starboard. Steady, now!" And then down he rapidly climbs, calling, "All aboard," as he comes.

It is now high noon and the fish are doing some fishing on their own account—skimming, it is called—and the bunch gets away before the circle is more than half complete. Haul in and back to the steamer it is for the crews.

"All aboard" again, and they are off with rapid strokes. This time the circle is completed. The net is hauled in and is—empty! The fish made a quick dive and got away before the circle was completed. The captain sends the striker on a scouting expedition and he locates the bunch a half mile away while the crews are pulling in the nets. The long boats follow the striker, separating and starting to place the nets before they reach him. The captain waves a strenuous signal to the Compton and the steamer gets in the game, helping the striker head off the fish and keep them within the rapidly forming circle. Baffled by this bunch before, the men are determined to beat them this time. The boats fairly jump from the water and as they near each other the yelling would make a football game seem tame. Here come the fish, splashing and jumping, making for the opening. It is all a matter of seconds now. The crews go wild with their yelling, as they throw out the nets and tug at the oars.

The fish are there at the opening, but so are the boats, just in the nick of time. Even the captain is wildly excited, yelling like a madman. Over go the oars with great splashes. There must be room for action, and the oars have been tied to ropes for just such a moment. The fish strike at the net under the boats, bulge it out, but cannot tear it way from the men's hands or break it, though they make the water foam and hiss. Then round they go, hundreds of thousands of them striking the net at a time; but still they do not succeed in breaking it. The Compton is following the anxious orders of the captain by slowly circling the net to scare the fish to the center.

All the frantic efforts of the fish avail nothing. They are caught this time and cannot escape—a good, clean catch of about a hundred barrels—and the day's work is done for all but the captain, who now takes the wheel and insists upon his pilot turning in for a nap. It isn't hard to see why "Captain Jim" has such a hold on his men.

Before we are back to the bar the crew have rested up, cleaned up and dressed ready for their homes. They are rather pleased with the catch, for it is above their record of several days previous; but it is nothing compared with what they do a little later in the season. Today's catch is a little under 600 barrels, probably between 2,500,000 and 3,000,000 fish. But later they will run three or four times this in a day, if the fish or sharks do not break their nets. Once under "Captain Jim's" directions, they caught more that salt water appetite.

With a 3 o'clock supper, soon followed by a hearty luncheon of boiled shrimp, the time quickly passes till town is reached—just time enough to provide another appetite for the bounteous supper for which "Miss Kate" is famous—fish, chicken, crabs, ham, rice, hominy, corn bread, lettuce and strawberries. Ah! great whales and little fishes! What an institution is that salt water appetite.

As the Compton is going up the harbor to the factory on Cape Fear river, the captain delegates the striker to take the landlubber to shore. Back at the wharf of the Stuart house once more.

A wave of the hand, and the day's fishing has become but one of the cherished memories of a visit to the historical old town of Southport.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. SCUPPERNONG GRAPES.

Valuable Bulletin Issued by State Agricultural Department.

The North Carolina Experiment Station has just issued a very important bulletin on "Self-Sterility of the Scuppernong and other Muscadine-Grapes." The results reported in this bulletin show exclusively that these grapes are self-sterile, that is, will not produce normal fruit unless fertilized by pollen from male grape vines. These results were obtained by (1) covering the branches during the blooming season, (2) a study of the germinating flower of the pollen, (3) microscopic study of the dry pollen, (4) examination of the structure of the flowers, and (5) the influence of male pollen on the crop.

The second part of the bulletin discusses the application of these results. It deals with the kinds of male vines to plant, where to plant them for best results, and the number of such vines required in a vineyard. It also discusses the influence which weather and pruning have on the yield. One of the most valuable subjects treated is that dealing with the growing of these grapes from seeds.

This bulletin is No. 209 and is for free distribution to residents of North Carolina. It can be had by writing to Director C. B. Williams, Exeprriment Station, West Raleigh, N. C.

CHORUS NUMBER FROM "THE BEAUTY SPOT," JEFFERSON DeANGE LIS' NEW STARRING VEHICLE, ACADEMY OF MUSIC, MONDAY, OCTOBER 3.

AT THE THEATRES.

Jefferson De Angelis in "The Beauty Spot" will open the season of Comic Opera at the Academy tomorrow night identically the same company which won its laurel during a seven months run on Broadway.

De Angelis is still the funny man of Comic Opera and as the jealous husband of the Ex-Queen of the Ballet, who posed in her studio days as the steam-clad "Girl in the Bathtub," he makes laughter and sings topical songs to the heart's content of the audience. But "The Beauty Spot" is not all De Angelis.

The reat feature of the "Beauty Spot" is the beauty chorus, which made its vogue in New York and has been held intact for the road tour. This, in itself, is an innovation; the genuine New York show girl has never taken upon herself to labor on the one night stands. There are about three hundred in this class and never before has an assortment left the glare of the electric sign over the lobster palaces alon The Great White Way. Nor do they have to. There are always five or six big musical comedies running in the metropolis and as the major of these use from forty to fifty girls, it may readily be seen that the Broadway chorus girl need never lack an engagement. When they go on the road it is only to visit the larger cities like Boston, Philadelphia and Chicago, in easy reach of their New York apartment and their automobile.

Manager Comstock decided this season that he must keep the famous Beauty Chorus at any cost, and cut the Cordian knot by the simple powerful use of the almighty dollar. To gain the girls' consent to endure the hardships of the road, he offered them almost any salary they chose to demand with a result that the average weekly salary of the members of "The Beauty Spot" chorus is $35.00.

Although such a pay roll would shock to death the average manager, Mr. Comstock has succeeded in introducing to the playgoers of this section the most beautiful aggreation of stage woman that has ever been seen in a road company.

That the girls have not foregone all their luxuries can be seen in the case of Miss May who owns her automobile and has it shipped to each week's stand.

Nor have the cast principals been neglected. Chief among those who suported Mr. De Angelis during the New York run and who are still to be seen with the company are: Viola Gillette, George J. MacFarland, Charles W. Myers, Florence Martin, Ida Van Tyne, Joseph C. Fay, Arvid Paulson and Anna Millward.

Seats went on sale yesterday at Plummer's.

Opera to be Selected by Vote.

The Aborn English Grand Opera Company is deciding its repertoire in the various cities it is to visit, by popular vote. Several hundred names of theatre-goers are selected at random in each city, and to each of these a list of a dozen operas is sent to select from, with a return postal card with which to notify the Aborn executive offices in New York of the first, second and third choice of operas. When a sufficient number is received from any one place to indicate what operas are most desired there, the selection is made and announced and the cast scheduled accordingly. So far this plan has worked admirably, and of all those to whom these voting cards are sent, an average proportion of over three-fourth send back with their favorite operas marked. A good many have already been returned from music lovers in this city, and as soon as the usual number of votes are in, the selection will be announced, probably within the next fortnight. The Aborn singers come to the Academy shortly.

opportunity to heed the petition for increased compensation of the carriers already engaged.

An obstinate postal deficit has, also, stood in the way, or, at least, has been alleged as the principal objection by congressmen opposing the change.

The time is now come when congress cannot afford longer to disregard the just request made by the carriers.

The average pay to the privates in this tremendous army of hard-working men is $90 a year, while a great many receive under that amount, compensation being graded according to length of route.

Out of this comparatively modest sum, the carrier is required to furnish and maintain the conveyance with which he makes the daily trip of delivery and collection.

Subtract that important item from the salary of $900 and the amount left for living expenses in this age of high prices is not impressive.

It has been proposed to adjust this situation by allowing the carrier $300 annually for horse maintenance. Representative Gordon Lee, of Georgia, is author of a bill aimed at that end, and it is now pending in congress.

It is earnestly to be hoped that congress will take cognizance of a petition characterized in every respect by justice.

Incidentally, it may be remarked that a parcels post, for which the carriers are working, would largely cut down the postal deficit and enable the government to deal fairly with one of its most important branches of employes.

It's the World's Best

No one has ever made a salve, ointment or balm to compare with Bucklen's Arnica Salve. It's the one perfect healer of cuts, corns, burns, bruises, sores, scalds, boils, ulcers, eczema, salt rheum. For sole eyes, cold sores, chapped hands or sprains, it's supreme. Infallible for piles. Only 25c at Robert R. Bellamy's.

RHEUMATISM

WEAK KIDNEYS & THIN BLOOD

Not only is the blood the great nourishing source of our systems, but equally as important is its work of removing the waste of oxodized tissues which have been consumed in force and bodily heat. This waste is filtered out through the kidneys. When, however, the kidneys become weak and unable to perform their regular duties, the waste is allowed to remain in the circulation, soon forming uric acid which destroys the greater portion of nourishing elements of the blood and leave it weak and acrid. This imperfect blood deposits into the different muscles and joints the uratic impurity with which it is contaminated. Then the pains and aches of Rheumatism commence. The gritty formation which uric acid causes collects in the joints and produces the aches and stiffness which always accompany the disease. Likewise the muscles are coated and lose their elasticity, while the continual irritation to the nerves produces swelling and inflammation of the flesh.

SSS

S. S. S. cures Rheumatism in the only way it is possible to overcome the disease; it cleanses the blood of all uric acid poison and strengthens the kidneys so they are enabled to properly filter out the waste. S. S. S. is not only the best of blood purifiers, but a fine tonic. Book on Rheumatism free to all who write.
